Three-Way Tam Unification Split Meets Opposition

By GILES BIXLER

The proposed three-way unification of Tamalpais High School District ran into heated opposition from parents in the Sir Francis Drake High School attendance area at a public hearing last night.

The attendance areas of Sir Francis Drake, Redwood and Tamalpais High Schools would be used as the basis of three new unified districts under the plan. This would unify elementary and secondary schools in three systems, but break up the existing Tamalpais High School District, which now embraces all three high schools.

"This isn't a unification election," said Mrs. John Thayer. "It's dissolving one district into three."

Most of the audience, including representatives from three of the four elementary school districts to be unified into the Drake district, felt this was a backward step.

The Marin County Committee on School District Organization, which made the tentative proposal and held the hearing last night was divided on the question.

One committee member, Mrs. Joseph B. Wallace, said she voted for the proposal to get it before the State Board of Education.

"The committee was deadlocked," said Mrs. Wallace, adding that she and others opposing the plan felt it very unlikely that the state board would approve a proposal to split the Tamalpais High School District.

"But there is a slight chance that the state board would pass it," said Dr. Elmer A. Weden of San Anselmo. He felt this would be too great a chance to take.

Mrs. Winifred C. Fredericks of Lagunitas put it succinctly: "You should take this plan and junk it."

Edward Latchem of San Anselmo said: "That's a terrible plan. The poorer district suffers." He also pointed out that if two districts voted for the split, the third would have to accept it.

Committee members concurred this was so, saying that each proposed district's vote would be counted separately, and even if only one district passed the proposal to split, the other two would suddenly find themselves in a smaller high school district.

This means that if only Redwood High School attendance area passed the proposal, for example, Sir Francis Drake and Tamalpais High School areas would be joined in a new unified district.

Much of the opposition centered around the fact, which everyone admitted, that the Drake district, under the proposal, would have the highest tax rate of the three districts.

Estimates by committee members and members of the audience ranged from six to 50 per cent difference between the high and low tax rates in the three districts. The estimate seemed to depend on which side of the question the speaker took.

Robert Stannard of the county superintendent's office came up with comparative figures based on the present school year's budgets.

If the three-way split had been started this year and the present budgets were in force, Stannard estimated tax rates necessary on $100 assessed valuation at $5.50 in the proposed Drake district, $4.83 in the proposed Redwood District, and $3.93 in the Tamalpais district.

Stannard further estimated the

FULFILLING ELECTION PLEDGE

Mrs. Pefra Sanchez, 69, of Camarillo fulfills a pledge she made to herself for the election of President Lyndon B. Johnson—she's crawling on her knees the half-mile from her home to her Catholic church. Mrs. Sanchez is a Ventura County vegetable-field and packing house worker who speaks no English and cannot vote. She told her priest she made the pledge two months ago. After praying in church yesterday, she accepted a ride home from friends. (AP Wirephoto)

Victors Talk On Job Ahead For Humphrey

Trouble-Shooter Trip To Europe Reported, Denied

COMBINED UPI & AP

President Lyndon B. Johnson and vice president-elect Hubert H. Humphrey discussed today a variety of matters, ranging from world trade to the role Humphrey will play in the new administration—possibly including a trouble-shooting trip to Western Europe.

The chief executive also conferred by telephone from his ranch with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara in Washington. Acting press secretary Malcolm Kilduff said the talk with Rusk covered a broad scope of world affairs, undoubtedly including the revolution in Bolivia.

TIMES REPORT

Kilduff was asked about a published report (New York Times) that the administration was actively considering sending Humphrey to western Europe later this month to consult with NATO leaders and try to avert a crisis in the Atlantic alliance.

"I know of no such plans," Kilduff replied.

Asked if Johnson and Humphrey had even discussed this, Kilduff said:

"Not according to the information I have. No."

Humphrey, who arrived with his wife yesterday at LBJ Ranch for a victory visit with Johnson, scheduled an early afternoon departure for Washing-

Mariner 3 Blasts Off On Journey To Mars

8-Month Mission In Space

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The United States sent a Mariner television craft speeding into space today on an historic 8½ month voyage to give man his first close look at mysterious Mars.

The probe is designed to take 22 pictures of the Martian surface and to see if the little planet's atmosphere is thick enough to allow future spaceships to land with parachutes.

TWO-STEP LIFT

The 575-pound spacecraft, carrying scientific instruments as well as a camera, was first hurled into orbit about 115 miles above earth. Then, about 23 minutes later, the Mariner was rocketed toward inter-planetary space. It was designed to hit a 25,600 mile an hour speed but officials said it would be several hours before its actual speed could be determined.

Mariner-3 began its mission, most difficult yet attempted in the N.S. manner space program, atop a 104-foot Atlas-Agena rocket that blasted into partly cloudy sky at 2:22 p.m. EST.

SCIENTISTS WAIT

It will be several days before scientists will be able to determine if the windmill-shaped craft is on the curving 350-million-mile course needed to give Mariner a brief glimpse of Mars and possibly its "canals."

The launch was delayed exact-

BUT BIG CAT DOESN'T BARK

Neighbors Roar Against Lion So Town Rules Pet Has To Go

ABINGTON, Pa. (AP) — The Abington Township commissioners have ruled that Howard Sautter's pet lion has to go.

Sautter's full-grown, 300-pound lion, Leo, has been living in his backyard for about 21 months. He keeps Leo either in a cage in the yard, or in the garage.

Sometimes, Sautter goes out on jobs in his tow truck with the lion sitting on the seat beside him.

A petition was presented to the township commissioners last night. It was signed by 55 of Sautter's neighbors. They asked that the lion be banished.

Sautter, 53, a former race car driver now operating a service station and garage, wasn't at the meeting. Informed of the commissioners' action, he denied a charge the lion roared at night. He said it used to, but he rigged up an intercommunications system, so that he could talk to Leo from his bedroom.

When Leo roars, Sautter says, he talks with him through the intercom, calming him down.

The only noise at night, adds Sautter, is the barking of his neighbors' dogs.

"They bark all night," he complained.

Absentee Vote Count Settles County Races

Byron W. Leydecker won election for a two-year term as county supervisor from the First District by 258 votes, completion of counting of absentee ballots disclosed today.

Mayor John F. McInnis of San Rafael gained 89 on his opponent in the tally of 933 First District absentee votes, cutting the lead held by Leydecker in results announced yesterday.

Final unofficial totals, as tabulated by the county clerk's office, were: Leydecker, 10,222; McInnis, 9,964.

Leydecker, who was serving by appointment pending a general election, will take a new oath of office next Tuesday for the remainder of the term to which the late Walter R. Castro was originally elected. It expires Dec. 31, 1966.

Informed of the final tally today, Leydecker repeated a comment of yesterday that he did not feel "Marin County would have been the loser" whichever way the race went.

"Both Mr. McInnis and I have a lot to contribute to government in Marin County," said Leydecker. "I would hope that both of us, working together, can accomplish what we are capable of accomplishing."

He expressed appreciation to those who supported him, especially "at least 200" volunteers who worked on the campaign.

"There are certain things about which I have very strong convictions," said Leydecker. "These have been reflected in my votes on the board of supervisors."

McInnis, expressing gratitude to the nearly 10,000 who support-

Makeup Of Novato Board Is Changed

Absentee ballots changed the makeup of the board of the new Novato Unified School District, replacing William H. Kirk with William G. Schneeflock.

Count of the absentees was completed this morning and results announced by County Clerk George H. Gnoss. The 4,847 absentee ballots cast in the county included many from the Novato area, among them being ballots of 10 precincts at Hamilton Air Force Base (in the San Jose School District) which vote by absentee ballot only.

Kirk, who was in seventh place for the seven-member board of the new district before the absentees were counted, dropped to 10th and last with their addition. Schneeflock moved up from eighth place to seventh.

The new board will be composed of four members of the present Novato Unified board and three members of the present San Jose board as result of

Bobby Baker Hearing Set

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Robert G. (Bobby) Baker hearings that Republicans tried in vain to force before Tuesday's election are now planned for the first week in December.

Baker, former secretary to the Senate Democratic majority, will be among the witnesses called to testify about an alleged $35,000 kick-back on the District of Columbia Stadium project by Matthew H. McCloskey, Philadelphia contractor and former ambassador to Ireland.

A closed session of the Senate Rules Committee has been called for Dec. 1 by Chairman B. Everett Jordan (D-N.C.), to map plans for the inquiry.

France, Red Chinese Talk Wheat Deal

PARIS (UPI)—France was reported today to be negotiating the sale of one million tons of wheat to Communist China.

The export deal, expected to be signed soon, would go into effect in 1965. It would triple French wheat exports to Communist China over the current three-year accord expiring next year.

Nixon Says Rocky Caused Defeat

NEW YORK (AP)—Richard M. Nixon charged today that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York was the "principal divider" in Sen. Barry Goldwater's Republican presidential campaign.

The former vice president said the governor "got his pound of flesh."

Nixon, who spent the past month campaigning across the country for Goldwater, said he found the people resented Rockefeller "sitting it out after running for the nomination" against Goldwater.

Jobless Rate Steady

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The nation's jobless rate held steady at 5.2 per cent in October. But a Labor Department spokesman said various federal measures seem to have had a long-range beneficial effect.

Voter Turnout Falls Far Short Of Prediction

WASHINGTON (AP) — Still incomplete returns from Tuesday's election indicate that the total voter turnout fell far short of the predicted 71.1 million but probably topped the 1960 total.

With 173,152 of 175,756 polling units counted, President Lyndon B. Johnson had 42,038,243 votes to 26,449,960 for Sen. Barry Goldwater, a two-party total of 68,488,203.

In 1960, the total of presidential votes for all candidates — Democrat John F. Kennedy, Republican Richard M. Nixon and minor parties — plus those cast for unpledged presidential electors in Louisiana and Mississippi total 68,832,778.

The 2,604 precincts still unreported come mostly from sparsely settled areas, which probably have about 200 votes each.

This would mean the present totals will be swelled by about half a million votes from these 2,604 precincts, plus the minor party vote estimated at about 200,000 based on the 1960 totals.

47 Are Injured In School Bus Crash

FRUITLAND, Md. (UPI) — A tractor trailer smashed into a school bus early today, knocking the bus into an electrical service pickup truck. At least 47 children and adults were injured.

Officials at Peninsula General Hospital in Salisbury said 42 children had been released. Five, among them an 11-year-old girl who suffered a fractured jaw, were being admitted.

Larkspur Council Shuns Bid To Revive High-Rise Issue

By JEFF GREER

Former Mayor Lesly A. Daveler had little success in his attempt last night to get the Larkspur City Council to reopen the "high rise" controversy.

The two councilmen who sided with him in opposing a variance permit for a 12-story retirement center, granted by 3-2 vote after the June and July hearings, led the council in denying Develer's request.

Daveler read aloud most of a letter to the council, in which he asked that it consider financing a taxpayer's suit to determine validity of the variance permit, called for rechecking "pro" petitions to weed out signatures of minors and non-Larkspur residents, and requested the council to "direct correction of the July 4 article" in the Independent-Journal which he complained failed to report that it had been publicly admitted some of the signatures were those of minors.

Councilman Vaughn M. Marker, who with Councilman R. J. Smith had voted against the high-rise permit, said, "I'd be opposed to the council taking any action to underwrite the cost of a taxpayer's suit," and questioned the legality of such action.

Cease-Fire Is Called In Yemen

CAIRO (UPI)—A cease-fire has been arranged in the two-year Yemeni civil war, the semi-official Middle East News Agency (MENA) said today.

The cease-fire will start at 11 a.m. Sunday, MENA said.

It said that "agreement has been reached to effect a cease-fire and to stop acts of violence in the Yemen."

The cease-fire was arranged, it said, by representatives of "various Yemini factions" who met in Arkwit, Sudan, from Monday until yesterday.

HOLIDAY MOOD

Lyndon, Hubert Hit It Off Fine

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Lyndon B. Johnson and Hubert H. Humphrey, his vice president-to-be, hit it off in fine fashion as they wound up a Texas hiss country huddle today.

Lounging around the LBJ Ranch 15 miles west of this hamlet founded by the president's grandfather, the nation's two top Democrats celebrated Tuesday's landslide victory.

They looked much like peas in a pod as they hiked around the 400 presidential acres and rode horses in Western garb.

Humphrey, a one-time druggist, looked anything but that as he moseyed around the ranch on a horse which, from all appearances, was tame and well behaved.

The president greeted Humphrey and wife Muriel with an elaborate Texas barbecue yesterday.

Hardly had the Minnesotan landed on the LBJ property when he was clapped into Western pants, Western jacket, Western boots and Western hat and, with a mite of encouragement, enticed to climb aboard the horse.

All this coincided with the barbecue served buffet-style at folding tables set up in a metal hangar, painted brass green, beside the taxi strip at the Johnson City municipal airport — the ranch runway.

Afterwards, Johnson took Humphrey in tow for a tour of his birthplace, reconstructed on the property, and other landmarks which he delights in showing to visitors.

Both were in a holiday mood and obviously enjoying their visit.

Privately, they talked about the future of the vice presidency —an office often scorned—and looked ahead to the legislative program the Johnson-Humphrey administration will offer to the nation in January.

Both men are graduates of the Senate and hope that, with this background, they can work in tandem to promote the "Great Society" proposals that will bear the LBJ brand.

Humphrey was scheduled to fly to Washington late today. The Johnsons plan to spend several more days at their ranch.

Goldwater Determined To Steer GOP On Conservative Course

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, determined to keep the Republican party on a conservative course, heads back to Washington tomorrow to handle some of the leftover business of the Senate seat he gave up for his losing race against President Lyndon B. Johnson.

For the moment Goldwater's long-range future remained obscure. But the beaten Republican nominee has served notice he plans to spend a lot of time working to lead and strengthen the GOP.

In the days ahead Goldwater plans to take care of some Senate mail and some other matters in Washington, then head for a vacation with his wife at an undisclosed spot.

While more liberal members of the party made plans to rebuild the GOP in their image, Goldwater declared: "I don't think we can build a Republican party on their concepts which, in my opinion, have no difference at all with the Democratic concept."

At a concession news conference yesterday, Goldwater said he does not think the conservative cause "has been hurt at all," despite his landslide loss.

Conservatism, he insisted, is a philosophy the Republican party "must cling to and strengthen in the years ahead."

Goldwater said he does not expect to be the nominee again in 1968, declaring his role "would be better played" in building Republican organization and raising party funds.

That is the job he did before he rose to top the Republican ticket.

Goldwater had no specific plans to offer on the shape of his drive to rebuild the beaten GOP.

The senator plans to move to Phoenix eventually but said he will keep his apartment in Washington.

"I am not seeking employment there," he added.

His old Washington job went to Arizona Gov. Paul Fannin, elected to fill the Senate seat Goldwater has held for 12 years.

Goldwater withdrew from that race when he won the Republican nomination.

BARRY PENS FAMILY JOKE

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater dashed off a wry family joke yesterday about his defeat.

He drove to Scottsdale to buy some paintings. One was a Mark Coomer painting of a clown weeping.

He bought it for his daughter Peggy, saying she likes clowns.

He put this card with it: "I voted for Barry."

New Congress Lineup Helps LBJ Proposals

WASHINGTON (AP)—The widened Democratic margin in Congress could brighten chances for two key Johnson administration proposals—health care for the elderly and aid to the depressed Appalachian region.

The White House is certain to read the landslide victory of President Lyndon B. Johnson as a mandate to push harder for both measures.

Final returns indicate a net gain of two Senate seats for the Democrats and — more significantly—about 40 House seats.

In the 88th Congress, the Democratic Senate edge of 66 to 34 already was so big that the majority party could push through even its most controversial programs.

The proposal to provide medical care for older Americans by boosting Social Security taxes cleared the Senate by five votes. The one-billion-dollar Appalachian aid bill was approved by a wide margin.

But the health plan was rejected in a conference with the House and House leaders decided against bringing up the Appalachian legislation.

The new congressional lineup encouraged Democrats to believe they could put through these long-disputed measures:

1. Creation of a cabinet department of urban affairs or, as it has been called more recently, a department of housing and community development.

2. Revision of the immigration laws to knock out the long-standing national origins quota system.

3. Extension of the Wages and Hours Act to include some types of service workers long excluded.

4. Establishment of some form of national standards for the unemployment compensation system.

Romney Faces Challenge With Democrat Legislature

DETROIT (AP) — While talk of the 1968 presidential nomination and Republican rebuilding flutters around Michigan Gov. George Romney, he faces a home-state challenge that could make or break his national future.

Romney won overwhelming re-election Tuesday despite a Michigan landslide for President Lyndon B. Johnson and found himself at the fore of GOP survivors.

He also found himself confronted with a state legislature of nearly two-thirds Democrats in each house—a jarring shift from the Republican majorities of his first term.

The former American Motors Corp. president said the Republican party must "broaden and unify." At the same time, Romney seemingly must broaden and unify his own administration program.

He said he would work on a bipartisan basis and hoped for reciprocity.

The governor insisted that he has not considered seeking the 1968 nomination.

In regard to national party rebuilding, he told a news conference yesterday that he "can't see that I have any significant individual responsibility nationally."

"I do recognize that with others throughout the nation I can make contributions to broaden and unify the party nationally."

Practically speaking, Romney, 57, will have to decide what to do in 1966 before looking beyond. He could seek another term as governor — one of four years under a new constitutional provision—or he might try for Democratic Sen. Patrick McNamara's seat.

Viet Kidnap Attempt Fails

SAIGON (UPI) — A heavly-armed 30-man Communist Viet Cong patrol penetrated to within less than 1,000 yards of the U.S. Embassy today in an attempt to kidnap a local government official, highly reliable sources said.

But the Red Guerrillas fled when local citizens began shouting and banging on pots and pans to attract the attention of security forces.

Militia Resists Bolivia Coup

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—Fighting continued in La Paz last night as militia units loyal to deposed President Victor Paz Estenssoro resisted the nation's new military regime.

Seven persons were reported killed and 50 injured as air force planes attacked buildings occupied by police and strafed militiamen on a hill near the capital.

Students and workers also attacked the buildings held by the police.

Paz, 57, who became president when a popular uprising threw out a military junta in 1952, fled with his family and aides to Peru in a Bolivian military plane.

Rhodesia Votes On Independence

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (UPI) — Voters in this white-ruled African nation went to the polls today to decide a controversial constitutional referendum on independence from Britain.

The balloting could lead to a declaration of independence by Prime Minister Ian Smith. Britain has warned that if this happens it will cut off the trade on which Rhodesia largely depends and will read Rhodesia out of the British Commonwealth.

U.S. Prisoner: 'Reds Supported'

TOKYO (UPI)—An American officer held prisoner by the Communist Viet Cong guerrillas was quoted today as saying that the South Vietnamese people support Viet Cong goals.

The officer is Capt. Floyd James Thompson of the U.S. Army Special Forces. His alleged statement was similar to those made by other U.S. prisoners of the Communists in Southeast Asia.

The statements are not made under direct duress. Usually, the prisoner is given the choice of a message loaded with propaganda and telling his family he is safe, or no message at all.

Pope To Attend Council Session

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI sent word today that he would for the first time personally attend a working session of the Ecumenical Council tomorrow.

Another highlight of today's council session was an eloquent address on the problem of world poverty made by U.S. Catholic lay leader and council auditor James J. Norris.

Norris, president of the International Catholic Immigration Service, said in near-perfect Latin that "the problem of poverty—one of the oldest and deepest that confronts a Christian conscience—has taken on a new shape, new dimensions and new urgency."

TOKYO (AP) — Cambodia's Boy Scout Assn. has been dissolved after the chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, charged the scout movement was linked with "our deadly enemies," Communist China's New China News Agency said today.

Ban On Building

LONDON (AP)—Britain's new Labor government has banned construction of new office buildings in London, saying too many have already been built in the city without enough housing for office workers.

Maritime Strike

ROME (AP) — Communist and non-Communist Italian maritime unions have ordered their members to strike from four to 12 hours in ports around the world between today and Monday. The strike was called after a break in negotiations for a new labor contract.

No McNamara Vote

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Pentagon blamed a slipup for Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's failure to vote in Tuesday's presidential election. The department's information office said McNamara "thought he was registered." But District of Columbia election officials said that although other members of McNamara's family had been registered when they moved to Washington, the secretary apparently had not been.

10 Women Elected, Nine Defeated In Congress Bids

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Ten women were elected to Congress in Tuesday's elections, but nine other women were defeated.

Among the casualties of the Democratic sweep was nine-term Rep. Katharine St. George (R-N.Y.), who lost to Democrat John G. Dow.

Only one non-incumbent made the grade.

The new face will be that of Patsy Takemoto Mink of Hawaii, the first woman of Oriental ancestry to serve in Congress.

Republican oldtimers who were re-elected were Reps. Frances P. Bolton, Ohio, Charlotte T. Reid, Illinois, Catharine May, Washington and Florence P. Dwyer, New Jersey.

Democratic incumbents re-elected were Reps. Leonor Sullivan, Missouri, Edna Kelly, New York, Edith Green, Oregon, Julia Butler Hansen, Washington and Martha Griffiths, Michigan. All defeated male opponents except Mrs. Reid, who was opposed by a woman, Poppy X. Mitchell.

Promotion Hurt

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (UPI) — Federal agents arrested Mrs. Catherine Farnell, 37, yesterday on charges she impersonated a woman Air Force officer. Agents said the woman had been posing as a lieutenant and was tripped up when she promoted herself to captain.

Auto Slaying Case To Trial

SAN BERNARDINO (AP)—Mrs. Lucille Miller will stand trial Nov. 30 on a charge she murdered her husband, Dr. Gordon E. Miller.

The 39-year-old dentist died in his burning car last month, and sheriff's officers arrested Mrs. Miller, 30, who was charged with murder.

At her superior court arraignment yesterday she entered a plea of innocent.

Her attorneys moved for Superior Judge John W. Kerrigan to disqualify himself and to dismiss the case for lack of evidence. He rejected both motions and set the date for the trial.

Steiger Has Role Of Pope John

BERGAMO, Italy (AP) — Rod Steiger, screen tough-guy, plays Pope John XXIII in a movie being filmed in Italy.

Work began yesterday at Sotto il Monte, Pope John's hometown.

The director of the Italian-French production said Steiger will not use any special makeup in portraying the portly, peasant priest. He is interested more in capturing Pope John's spirit than in striving for a close, physical impersonization.

THE FURNITURE MARKETS IN THE EAST

Have you ever come home exhausted from a day of shopping, kicked off your shoes and wished for nothing but peace and quiet for hours to come? Then you can imagine how I feel after ten days of furniture and gift shopping at the markets in High Point, N.C. and New York! It was exciting—there were wonderful things to buy for you—but now I really feel the need for a vacation.

Charles and I flew to High Point and then drove to all the many factories to see at first hand how the furniture is made, what the latest trends are and to personally select just the pieces we think right for the homes in Marin. No one market place can show so much and only here can we actually consult with the designers and fill our most exacting needs. Since some of the factories are as much as thirty miles apart it was necessary to do considerable traveling back and forth to make comparisons and co-ordinate our buying.

You will be interested to learn that everyone is making a determined effort to give more quality as well as style in new furniture models and the results were exciting as can be. We noted a great deal of fine detailing in wood cabinets, more exotic woods with hand burnished finishes, and upholstery fabrics that are just out of this world! Imagine covers with all the elegance you have dreamed of but so sturdy they resist abrasion and stains!

General styling was away from any specific period with furniture meant to be mixed and matched creating a more personal decorating scheme rather than the more formal "matched suite" concept.

In New York we selected more furniture and visited the importers where we were able to select accessories for your home to provide that finishing touch to individualize a room. Some will be arriving soon and we want you to stop in and share with us the thrill of seeing so many wonderful things.

Now we don't want you to feel too sorry for us and the difficulties of our shopping trip. We did manage to take in a few Broadway shows — "Hello Dolly", "Golden Boy" and "Funny Girl". All in all I guess it was a pretty nice trip and we can relax at home.

13 GREAT DANE PUPS–SHE'S POOPED

Bonella von Kochertal, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Jensen of 350 Oak Avenue, San Anselmo, deserves a rest, but the 13 pups she gave birth to on Monday won't let her have one. Bonella is the sister of a European champion Great Dane, Artus von Kochertal and the sire is Thor de Or's One-for-the-Money. Bonella gave birth to two of the pups in Mrs. Jensen's Volkswagen camper on the way to the veterinarian. Jensen is a news announcer in San Francisco. (Independent-Journal photo) over-all tax rate in the Tamalpais Unified District which failed to pass in an election last June, would have been $4.64 per assessed $100 with the present budgets.

The discrepancy arises because Sir Francis Drake area has the smallest tax base, said John Holmes of San Anselmo, "and this disproportion will probably increase rather than decrease in the coming years. I suggest you re-propose the single district unification."

Committee member David D. Ring of Tiburon, who supports the three-way split, said, "It depends on how much you're willing to pay to retain local control." When districts get too big, Ring said, conrtol passes from citizens into the hands of the professional educators.

Not true, said Francis Shafer of San Anselmo, in a large district the professional staff does not "take over the schools, but it does offer services and advice. If we split we'll lose these services."

Edmund J. Thomas Jr., longtime member of the Tamalpais High School District board, said of the three-way split: "Educationally, it's disastrous. This Drake area would be in distress. You have only a 37 million dollar tax base. You are already bonded to pay for Redwood High School, and you would continue paying for it after the split, getting nothing for your money. The Drake area needs more high schools. You just can't afford to pass this proposal."

A teacher at Sir Francis Drake High School, Jack Smith, said that a three-way split would reduce the scale of the educational program, but that unification from kindergarten to 12th grade is desirable, too. "This is the only way to articulate the overall program," he said.

To all the protests from the audience, committee member Mrs. Dorothy Brown of Terra Linda said: "We've heard it just as strong from the other side. We have to listen to the whole county."

Chairman Earl Marshall said parents from the Redwood High School attendance area would probably have a lot to say at tonight's hearing at Redwood High School at 8 o'clock, and much of it may be in favor of the three-way split.

San Rafael Boy, 5, Hit By Candy Stand

A 5-year-old San Rafael boy suffered a large cut on the head yesterday when hit by a falling gum and candy stand at the Purity Store in the Montecito Shopping Center on Third Street in San Rafael.

Edward Lopez, stepson of Edward Valente of 215 Terrace Avenue was treated at San Rafael General Hospital. Apparently he accidently pulled the stand from its place near a checkout counter.

San Rafael Man, 22, Cuts Head In Crash

Mark T. Evju, 22, of 5 Morgan Lane, San Rafael, was treated for a cut on his head at Marin General Hospital after his car snapped off a tree at 1:30 a.m. today on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Maple Avenue, Kentfield.

Evju told the California Highway Patrol he dozed at the wheel and awoke just before striking the eight-inch thick tree trunk. He was headed east on Drake Boulevard.

PUC Opens Hearing On Novato Phone Extension

The State Public Utilities Commission this morning opened a hearing on extended telephone service between Novato and San Rafael before a crowd of 250 at the Novato Community House.

Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. is asking for the Ignacio exchange to be tied in with all exchanges in the San Rafael area. The Ignacio exchange serves the southern section of Novato.

Western California Telephone Co., which serves the northern section of Novato, is asking to be included in the extended service as it is impractical to have the city divided into two types of telephone service.

Pacific Telephone is asking for an increase in single-party business rates from $7.50 to $11.95 per month for Ignacio and from $10.25 to $10.95 for San Rafael. A two-party business line would go from $6.10 to $9.25 in Ignacio and from $7.85 to $8.20 in San Rafael.

One-party residential service in Ignacio would increase from $4.65 to $5.65; two-party from $3.85 to $4.20, and four-party, from $3.25 to $3.70. There would be no change in the San Rafael residential rates.

Western California Telephone Co. is asking to increase one-party business service from $10.25 to $18.50 per month and two-party business service from $8.25 to $15.25. One-party residential would go from $5 to $8.45; two-party, from $4.45 to $6.90, and four-party, from $3.70 to $5.25.

ton. Tomorrow the Humphreys plan to fly to the Virgin Islands for a two-week vacation.

Johnson and Humphrey stayed up past midnight, Kilduff reported, discussing "such things as the new vice president's role as chairman of the Space Council."

As to speculation that President Johnson might send Humphrey to Europe, a State Department spokesman said he had "no information that would substantiate the reports."

However, Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, one of President Johnson's top diplomatic troubleshooters, will make two trips to Europe within the next four weeks—to confer with leaders on the growing crisis in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The State Department press officer disclosed in response to inquiries about Ball's plans:

1. He will attend the fourth German-American conference which meets in Berlin Nov. 12-15. This conference will discuss Atlantic alliance problems.

2. Ball will attend a Cabinet-level meeting of the Organization to Economic Cooperation and Development in Paris Dec. 2-3. The OECD is composed of industrial countries and works on problems of assistance to underdeveloped nations.

State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey said, in response to questions, that Ball has "no present plans" to meet with French President Charles de Gaulle, whose independent course within NATO and in Western Europe is at the center of the present crisis of unity.

Today's disclosures are the Johnson administration's initial post-election approach to coming to grips with the NATO dissension.

Other consultants on the organization of NATO and its proposed nuclear weapons force will be conducted by Secretary of State Dean Rusk when he meets with Western European foreign ministers in New York in connection with the Dec. 1 opening of the U.N. General Assembly.

In mid-December, Dusk will head the U.S. delegation to a scheduled meeting of the NATO Council in Paris.

ed him, said: "I tried to bring a good and constructive campaign to the people of the First District . . . I feel the future of Marin County is secure."

With a note of bitterness, McInnis reported receiving many telephone calls yesterday asking him to reconsider his decision not to run for another term as mayor next April.

"Since I did not receive sufficient support when I sought promotion to higher public office, maybe it is time for me to step out of public life," he commented.

The absentee ballots made little difference in the other two county supervisor races.

In the close Fourth District race, George H. Ludy gained six votes on winner Thomas T. Storer in the absentees, making the complete count 1,597 for Storer to 1,414 for Ludy.

In the Second District, Ernest N. Kettenhofen widened his lead over William D. Fusselman by 123 votes. Totals were: Kettenhofen, 13,005; Fusselman, 8,809.

Terra Linda Park Aide Steps Down

Gordon C. Young, one of the original directors of the Terra Linda Recreation and Parks District, when it was formed in 1960, resigned last night.

Young, who was treasurer of the board, will be controller of the district, Chairman Jack Brandon said.

Young was scheduled to leave office Dec. 31 when his term expired. He did not seek re-election.

He resigned last night so that Rev. James C. Upshaw, pastor of Christ Presbyterian Church, would assume his seat immediately rather than wait until Jan. 1, Brandon said.

Upshaw and incumbents Norman Gurin and Herman Moss Jr. were elected to four-year terms on the board in Tuesday's voting.

RISE

matter, I'll have to concur," added Smith.

Mayor Neil R. Brixon said "I don't think it behooves" the city to finance a taxpayer suit.

Councilman Henry Brocco's "I'll say it's past history" met with disagreement from Marker and Smith.

Marker noted that "there is no question" that it was brought out during the July 1 re-earing, after the battle of the petitions was joined, that some of the signers had been minors.

Brixon asked whether Daveler wanted the minors prosecuted; the former mayor did not answer. Brixon then asked City Atty. Robert W. Elliott about the weight of the petitions. The lawyer replied that there is no legal standing of the signatures, pro or con.

City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper noted that "no records were available to say 'Johnny Jones is a minor.'" He recalled the petitions were checked to determine whether signers lived in the city.

(The pro and con petitions submitted in July bore 1,833 opposed and 1,827 in favor, and after checking to eliminate nonresidents tallied 1,480 opposed and 1,389 in favor of the high-rise, it was reported in the Independent-Journal on July 6.)

Citizen Richard A. Kahn, 58 Via Barranca, Greenbrae, spoke up from the audience to argue that the petitions were "informative" rather than directive, and said the issue is now "academic."

"Unfortunately, we're kicking a dead horse," agreed Councilman Smith.

"The purpose of my letter has been served," Daveler commented after the discussion.

Supported McInnis

The bumper sticker on a car belonging to Mrs. Mary Troutman of 103 Ridgewood Drive, who reportedly parked the car within 100 feet of Precinct 1111 at 19 Ridgewood Drive Tuesday, supported John F. McInnis for supervisor, not Byron W. Leydecker as was reported yesterday in the Independent-Journal.

Two Tires Stolen

Two recapped tires were taken from the front of the Goodyear Tire store at 1531 Fourth Street, San Rafael, last night. Francis L. Lyon of 1020 Third Street, Novato, part-owner of the store, told police the tires had been delivered to the showroom but left outside after closing.

the balloting. However, all three of the San Jose members will serve only until next June 30 unless re-elected at the regular school trustee election in April.

Under the unification law, as explained by E. L. Blackmore of the county schools superintendent's office, the four receiving the highest vote totals get terms expiring in 1957, while the next three serve only on the interim board until the April balloting.

The four drawing the long terms are: Daniel H. Barber (San Jose), 5,444 votes; Mrs. Jean Ansley (San Jose), 5,085; Mrs. Leonora M. Dougherty (Novato), 5,031, and William Vandergriff (San Jose).

Drawing the brief terms are Gordon M. Leathers (Novato), 4,546; Marett B. Boissevain (Novato), 4,507, and Schneeflock (Novato), 4,410.

Also-rans were James Swenson (San Jose), 4,370; Alan M. Swabacker (San Jose), 4,226, and Kirk (Novato), 4,088.

Kirk is chairman of the present Novato board, which will continue to operate simultaneously with the new board until the close of this school year. All arrangements for next school year will be carried out by the new board.

Aged Housing Meeting Set

Omar E. McNally today set Monday at 1:30 p.m. as time for a special meeting of the Marin County Housing Authority to discuss plans and applications to be made to the federal government relating to housing for the elderly in Marin.

Voters Tuesday approved a measure for 200 units of housing to be built in Marin County.

The meeting will be at 429 Drake Avenue, announced McNally, commission chairman.

Mother On Way To Visit Son In China

HONG KONG (UPI)—Mrs. Mary Downey of New Britain, Conn., today crossed the border into Communist China on the way to Peking to visit her son, John, who was sentenced to life imprisonment 10 years ago as a U.S. spy.

The schoolteacher, making her fourth visit behind the bamboo curtain, was accompanied by another son, William.

Printing Exec Sued By Wife

Mrs. Arthur G. Dettner Jr., the former model Shirley Mansfield, yesterday sued her printing executive husband in Marin Superior Court for separate maintenance.

Superior Court Judge N. Charles Brusatori scheduled 2 p.m. Monday as date for Dettner, 40, to show cause why his wife's requests for the separation, "equitable" distribution of community property and reasonable support and maintenance, and his vacating the family home at 60 Toyon Lane in Sausalito should not be granted.

Mrs. Dettner alleges extreme cruelty. They were wed in San Francisco Dec. 29, 1956, were separated last Oct. 12, and have no children, according to the suit.

School Plan Is Approved

Ross School District trustees approved preliminary drawings last night for an addition to Ross School.

The trustees chose from four preliminary plans one which provided for a small courtyard in the center of the addition. The addition will have five classrooms, a multi-purpose room and a library with a capacity of 10,000 books.

The small courtyard was designed without any additional space being taken up by the addition. The trustees felt this was important because playground space at the school is limited.

Supt. William W. Monahan said ground will probably be broken next April or May.

Admission Standards At College Is Topic

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The board of trustees for California state colleges opened a two-day meeting today to consider a preliminary report on new admission standards and a 150-million-dollar operating budget for fiscal 1965-66.

Four committee meetings were scheduled today at California State College. They involved discussions of educational policy, California State College Foundation, campus planning, and faculty and staff affairs.

MARINER

ly an hour by troubles with radar at tracking stations in Australia and Antigua Island.

If all goes as planned, Mariner-3 will swoop next July 17 to within 7,000 to 10,000 miles of the planet that scientists say has the best chance in the solar system to support earth-type life.

Today's shot was the first of two costing 112 million dollars in America's opening scientific assault on the red planet. The Soviet Union failed in at least one Mars probe two years ago and is expected to try again this month.

The second Mariner is likely to be launched Nov. 13 if the first few days of Mariner-3's flight are on target. But even with twin spacecraft, officials said the mission was so difficult that the odds for at least one partial success were little better than 50-50.

Besides exploring the planet itself, Mariner-3 carries instruments to measure the radiation, space dust and magnetic forces it encounters on its long journey through unmapped interplanetary space.

Scientists say they don't know what Mariner's photographs will disclose. But if the probe is on course, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) hopes the pictures will be able to spot mile-long features on the Martian surface.

Such detail would be many times better than the best pictures taken through Earth-based telescopes.

Rocket Test Is Concocted

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—Civilian space agency engineers have concocted a device to test tolerance of rocket guidance instruments.

The testing apparatus combines the vibration and spinning features of the carnival's whip and octopus rides. It will simulate "bumps and grinds" of rocket flight to tell Marshall Space Flight Center engineers how the sensitive "rocket brain" parts react to conditions they will encounter in actual flight.

Other tests involve a 120-foot-high tower for determining acceleration tolerance and an acoustical chamber to determine whether the instruments can take the roar of the rocket blastoff.

OBITUARIES

MOUNT TAMALPAIS CEMETERY in the Heart of our County

Marin pioneers chose a site in the heart of our county as a final resting place for their families. Today this location—at the west end of Fifth Avenue in San Rafael—is still convenient to all Marin points.

Marinites who choose Mount Tamalpais do so with the assurance that its beauty will grow with the years. The interest from a quarter-million dollar endowment fund—twice the legal requirement—is dedicated to the constant care and improvement of this 57-acre site.

Perhaps—like many Marin families—you wish to make your own final arrangements to spare others difficult decisions. If so, we invite your inquiry or a personal visit.

Larkspur Council Ups Garbage Rate 25%

Larkspur City Council voted 4-to-1 to grant last night Marin Sanitary Service's request for a 25 per cent increase in garbage collection rates.

Only residential service is effected. The firm did not ask for a hike in commercial waste collection rates.

Customers who have been paying $1.60 a month for weekly pickup of one 30-gallon can will henceforth pay $2. Homes which have two cans full a week, in extremely steep areas of Larkspur, will have their rates jump from $4 to $4.80.

Councilman Vaughn Marker, after inspecting the sanitary service's documentation of increased operating costs since the last increase was granted in 1958, wanted to know how much more business the firm was doing since then. About 30 to 50 per cent, City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper reported. Marker voted "no" on the rate increase.

Robert M. Taylor of 45 Oak Road declared he wants weekly service and has not received it. Joseph S. Segale of Marin Sanitary Service said it would be provided, now that Madrone Woodlands is building up.

Richard A. Kahn of 58 Via Barranca, Greenbrae, declared, "I've lived here since 1958, and I think the service is terrific."

Former Mayor Lesley A. Daveler spoke up from the audience to ask when the current collection franchise expires, and, "should I make a written request that this be put to bid?"

Councilman Marker asked City Manager Piper to report on this at the council's next meeting.

The Larkspur City Council also:

1. Discussed Clear View Cable Systems, Inc., proposals for underground television cable installation to Larkspur homes, and directed the company to file a formal franchise application before acting further.

2. Informally approved plans for a $3,400 widening project on Redwood Avenue, and directed Piper to negotiate for encroachments.

3. Referred Piper's report on filling the city marshland, with suggestions for a civic center, boat harbor and other features, to the parks and recreation commission, for dovetailing with the commission's own differing proposals.

4. Appointed auto dealer Hil Probert to represent the city on the Marin County Mosquito Abatement District board, following the resignation of John Bar:".

5. Asked the county planning department to familiarize the city council with the proposed Kentfield area general plan, due for Nov. 17 hearing before the county board of supervisors.

6. With little discussion, adopted a new subdivision ordinance under preparation for months by the city staff, planning commission and Councilman Marker.

7. Approved Pacific Gas and Electric Co. installation of street lights in Madrone Woodland, to cost the city $69.05 a month.

The meeting adjourned at 11:20 p.m.

Killing Rat Fine, But . . .

BEIRUT (AP)—Killing a rat in Beirut is easily arranged but a mouse is another matter.

If you are plagued by rats, you submit a written request to the Beirut municipality offices and in due course a rat extermination squad will come around to handle the case.

But a mouse—and a cockroach—requires the personal authority of the director general of the Ministry of Health. Only he can issue the fatal order, since regulations say he must keep the mouse-killing powder under his personal control at all times.

The rat squad, which uses a different powder, has its own supply.

If a mouse is killed accidentally along with the rats, the incident is labelled "a fortuitous accident" on the official records, but the municipality declines to take responsibility for the death.

Birds going south for the winter often stop for rest and refreshment atop the Audubon House in midtown Manhattan.

Reunited Over Death, Then Husband Killed

SAN LEANDRO (AP) — Police said a quarrel between parents reunited temporarily by their son's death has resulted in the apparent suicide of the father and a near-fatal beating of the mother.

Leonard L. Wisecarver Sr., 44, apparently killed himself yesterday by running his car into a Fremont freeway abutment, San Leandro police said.

An Oakland hospital indicated that Mrs. Joy Wisecarver, 34, was near death from head injuries which police say were inflicted by her husband in the couple's San Leandro home.

Separated three months ago, the parents were reunited after their son, Leonard Wisecarver Jr., 15, was killed Sunday with two other boys in a traffic accident.

Police said that Wisecarver may have been angered over a friendship between his wife and another man.

Concealed Knife Charge Dismissed

Complaint of carrying a concealed knife was dismissed yesterday following the preliminary hearing of Terrance Lee Nolan, 18, of Gate 5, Waldo Point, before Judge Joseph G. Wilson in Marin Municipal Court.

Nolan was arrested by Marin County sheriff's officers Oct. 18 in a car between Sausalito and Mill Valley. Officers said he had a knife with 7-inch blade strapped to his belt.

The suspect had declared the knife was visible below his jacket.

Paradise Beach Park Hits New Snag—Contract Protest

Marin County's project for first phase development of Paradise Beach County Park has run into bidding trouble again.

First bids on the job were rejected as "excessive" in September, and the latest successful bid had been challenged and is likely to be rejected.

Recreation director Kelvin J. Nelson reported to the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission yesterday that the second low bidder, A. and J. Shooter, Inc. of San Rafael, has protested awarding of the contract.

Supervisors awarded the job to the low bidder, Asphalt Surfacing Co. of Berkeley, at $58,061. Shooter claims that Asphalt Surfacing Co. did not comply with specifications because it did not submit bids on both alternates. Shooter bid $59,252 on the major work and $12,352 on the alternate bid for restrooms.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney, in a letter to county supervisors, said it is apparent the Asphalt Surfacing Co. bid does not comply with the requirement that bids must be for the "entire work" and not partial bids. Maloney said it is his opinion that the bid must be rejected.

Shooter was low bidder in the original bidding in September. Supervisors rejected both bids at that time as excessive.

Nelson said there is about $57,000 available for the job.

FINISHED OR NOT?

GOP Spokesmen Differ On Barry

COMBINED AP AND UPI

National and state Republican spokesmen split today on whether Sen. Barry M. Goldwater and the conservative element of the party are finished.

Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-N.J.) said in Washington that the GOP would balk at continuing to follow Goldwater's leadership. North Dakota Republican leaders Bruce B. Blair and F. A. Ohlsen called for resignation of Republican National Chairman Dean Burch, and North Dakota state chairman Dr. Ben Clayburgh, saying "the philosophies of government and the extremist views of Sen. Goldwater have been repudiated by the state and the nation."

In Los Angeles, California State Chairman Gaylord Parkinson said he does not consider Goldwater's defeat a repudiation of conservatives, but that the GOP in the future will be "a house with many rooms."

Michigan Gov. George Romney — who bucked the Democratic tide to retain his post — today wired Gov. Robert E. Smylie of Idaho, chairman of the Republican Governors' Assn., calling for a meeting in early December to determine how to broaden and unify the party. Meanwhile, John B. Martin, national committeeman from Michigan, also demanded Burch's resignation.

Vice presidential candidate Rep. William E. Miller said in Washington that he does not consider his and Goldwater's defeat a repudiation of conservatism, and criticized Martin and Romney as "self centered" in the election campaign.

Vacationing in Madrid, Spain, New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller said he considers Goldwater's leadership finished. Rockefeller said he will definitely seek re-election as governor, but left open the question of again trying to become a presidential candidate.

Tiburon To Hire Planning Experts

Tiburon City Council and Planning Commission last night informally agreed to hiring Williams, Cook and Macine of San Francisco as planning consultants for the city for three to four months.

Details of the contract still are to be worked out. The firm had proposed up to eight months' inventory of city planning functions and problems at $8,124.

Councilmen last night agreed to shave the price to not more than $7,220, which would come within the city budget.

Working with the planning firm will be a citizen committee.

With a capacity of 75,504 seats, the Cotton Bowl is the 12th largest stadium in the country.

Mill Valley Is Sued For $10,000 In Injury

Harry J. Calnan, 44 Hillside Drive in Mill Valley, yesterday filed a personal injury suit for $10,000 in Marin Superior Court against the City of Mill Valley and his landlord for alleged negligence in maintenance of outdoor steps.

The suit declares on Feb. 7, Calnan was using the steps outside the building at 44 Hillside Drive and tripped and fell, suffering injuries. He alleges the landlord, Jerry Jensen of San Anselmo, and the city — which has an easment on the steps, known as the Gardner Street steps — are responsible for disrepair resulting in his fall.

Dope Agents Jail 'Source'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Federal narcotics agents last night arrested a man called "an important source" of heroin in the San Francisco area.

He was Marcel Andre Dupre, 35, of Los Angeles. He was taken into custody after an alleged sale to an undercover agent.

Agents said that Dupre had a half-pound concealed under a carpet in his San Francisco motel and that he was selling it for $300 an ounce. Dupre, they said, has been under investigation since 1962.

School Board Assn. Fees Called Too High In Hub

The San Anselmo School District trustees decided last night to sponsor a resolution asking for a reconsideration of fees paid by school boards to the California School Boards Assn.

Robert Corlett, trustee, will present the resolution to the association on Dec. 2. The trustees feel that the $250 the district pays each year for membership in the group is too high. The fees are based on the expenditures of each district in the association.

Last night's meeting was brief because the trustees attended the hearing at Sir Francis Drake High School on three-way unification of Tamalpais High School District, which they all oppose. But they did discuss a PG&E easement; received, but did not discuss a report from the school auditor, and heard a report from the citizens committee on the district school bond election set for April 20, 1965.

Symphony, Musicians Reach Agreement

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco Symphony Assn. and Musicians Local 6 announced yesterday they have reached agreement on a three-year contract.

The contract calls for longer symphony seasons and increased salaries for musicians. The first year calls for a 26-week season at a minimum salary of $160 a week. By the third year, the season will be 30 weeks with the minimum salary $190.

Marin's Need For Industries Discussed By Radio Panelists

Enterprises that deal in pharmaceuticals, cosmetics, plastics, and instructional materials were suggested today as industries that could help broaden the tax base in Marin County.

The suggestions were made on the radio KTIM "Marin Sounding Board" program, moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer. A panel of four speakers discussed the Stanford Research Institute's study of Marin economy. This morning's broadcast was taped for replay at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

Panelists were County Administrator Alan Bruce; Carroll R. Snyker, executive director of the Marin County Development Assn.; Dr. Ernest Harvey, senior economist for the Stanford Research Institute, and Eric Duckstad, manager of the institute's economic studies.

The economists pointed out that the first phase of the report listed some of the feasible industries but did not delve into methods of attracting them. That will come in the second phase.

County Administrator Bruce noted two-thirds of the Marin tax base is borne by residences and only one-third by industry and other types of activity.

Last August, the county board of supervisors asked for a Stanford Research Institute study, at the suggestion of Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker.

The first phase of that report cost $21,400, of which $6,900 was paid for by tax money and the rest came from private contributions.

The Stanford economists pointed out that "it is a buyer's market now" as far as industries go. Duckstad said that hundreds of acres are available for each acre that industry needs.

Doctor Harvey said industries to be encouraged should be those that have few employees in relation to their assessed valuation. In other words, if an industry draws a big labor force with large families that require more services and schools, then the purpose of attracting industries would be defeated.

Among industries showing potential for Marin, he listed pharmaceutical, toilet preparations, pressure sensitive tapes (such as Scotch tape), and instructional materials.

Doctor Harvey said the first phase of the report did not list specific industries or specific sites.

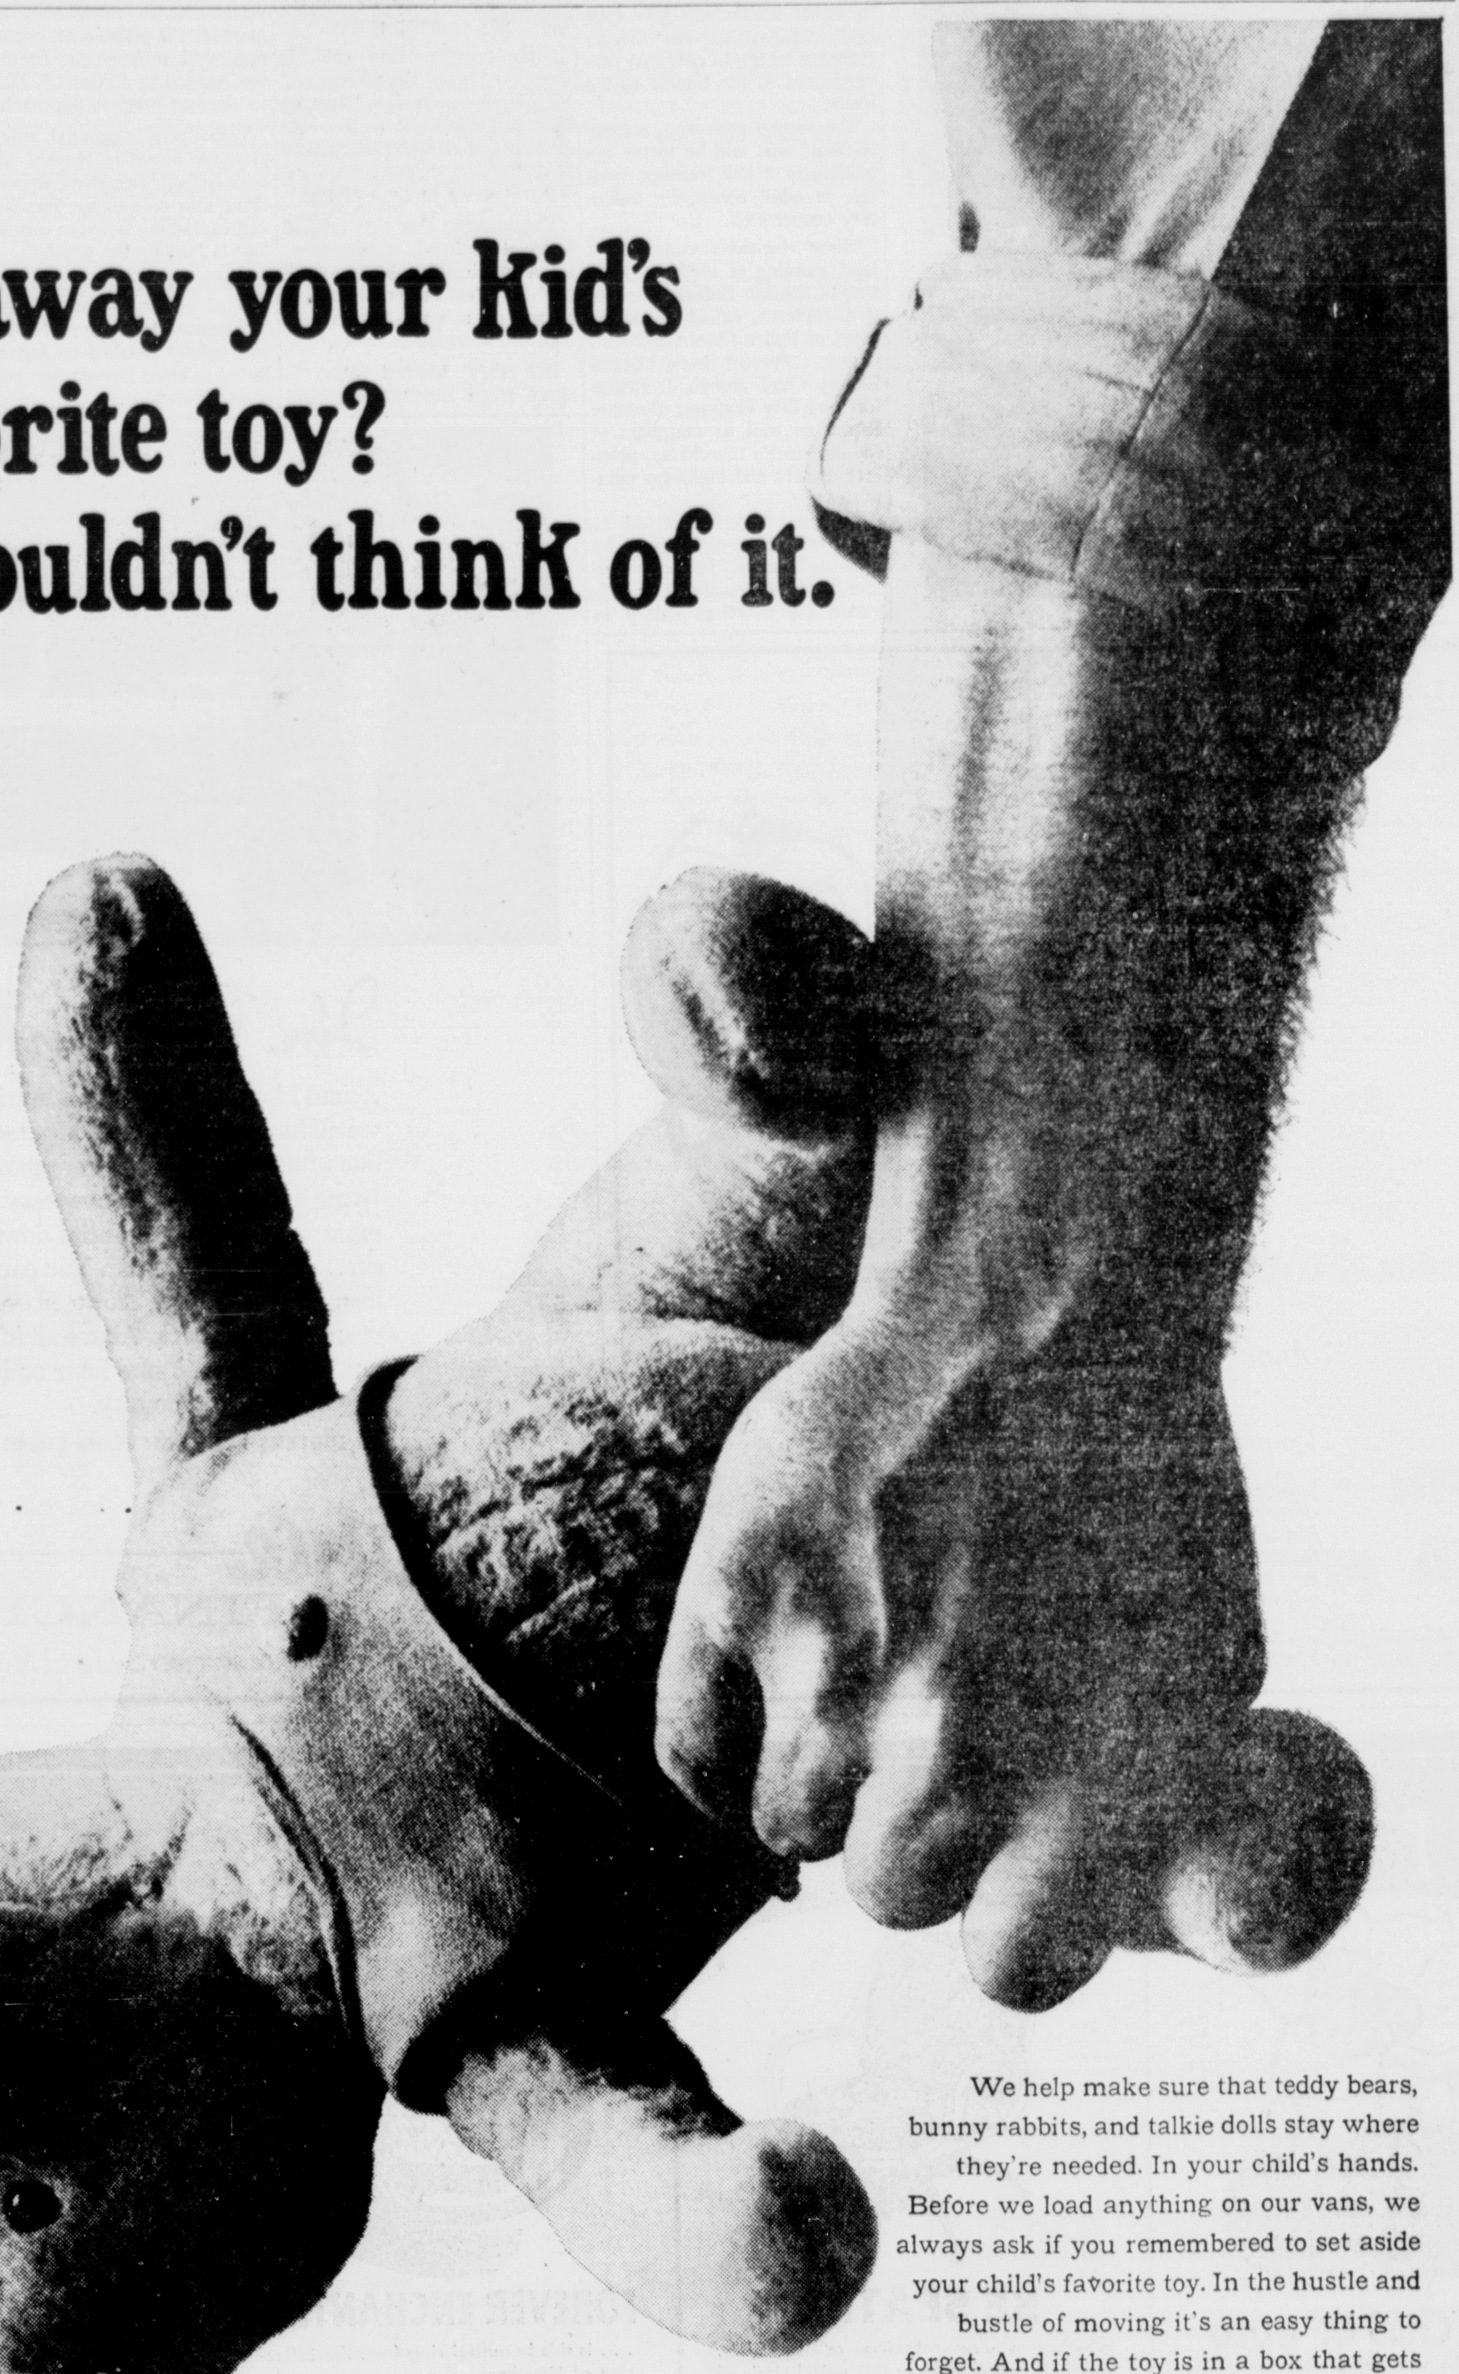

Snyker said that the Stanford report contained some "sage advice," but the Marin Development Assn. has some "reservations" about its usefulness.

He said the development association recommends that the second phase of the report be held up until its practical usefulness can be established.

Students Delegated

The executive council of the Associated Students of College of Marin last night voted to send four students, Tina Baldwin, Donna Ryan, Muhamed Hassan and Robert Rosenberg, to a conference Saturday and Sunday at Chico State College on the People-to-People program.

Take away your kid's favorite toy? We wouldn't think of it.

We help make sure that teddy bears, bunny rabbits, and talkie dolls stay where they're needed. In your child's hands. Before we load anything on our vans, we always ask if you remembered to set aside your child's favorite toy. In the hustle and bustle of moving it's an easy thing to forget. And if the toy is in a box that gets packed way back behind other boxes and furniture, it may be impossible to find when your child wants it. Chances are he'll already be upset by all the activity of moving, and if he can't have his favorite toy then he'll really be upset (and if he is, won't you be too?). We feel that it's part of our job to prevent this from happening. In fact, we feel that our men should be alert to anything, no matter how small, that will make your moving day a little easier. It takes a special kind of mover to do things this way; he has to be more than just a mechanical man who picks things up and puts them down. He has to have understanding and a great deal of plain old common sense. When you get men like this they may not be able to turn your moving day into child's play. But at least they'll make it more bearable.

San Rafael Teen Appeal On Friday Night Traffic Urged

Problems caused when teenagers' cars clog traffic on San Rafael's Fourth Street on Friday nights will be approached on two levels, a score of San Rafael officials and businessmen agreed yesterday afternoon.

Most immediate action will be placing five or six police officers on downtown street corners to direct traffic and give citations when they see drivers stopping traffic to carry on conversations in the middle of the block.

The second approach, a longer-range one, will be to try appealing to a few teen-age leaders, in adult terms, for voluntary cooperation.

These decisions came at a joint meeting of three committees of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, called at the request of Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa. Present were Chiesa, Deputy Chief Joseph J. Brusatori and City Engineer Dominic Selmi, as well as members of the chamber's merchants, property owners and highways committees.

The first plan, expected to start tomorrow night, will be underwritten at first by the merchants, who will pay an estimated $60 overtime salary to the officers involved.

The group agreed to set up this plan on a one-month trial basis, but said it probably will ask the city council if the city might absorb some of the cost later. Merchants indicated they would not be able to underwrite the project if it is continued on a nightly basis during the Christmas shopping season.

Main concern, they said, is over the impact the youngsters' night-time "recreation" has on business, since the traffic congestion and related factors tend to discourage shoppers from going downtown to shop at night.

Emphasizing that they wished to avoid the ill-will of teen-agers as a whole, the businessmen said they feel the problems are caused by a small minority of high school students.

But they seemed also to agree when Brusatori stressed that the "sport" of "dragging" has been taken up by many well-behaved youngsters and often involves no actual law violations, even though it contributes to what merchants feel is a nuisance.

Rejecting the idea of sending anyone to make appeals at high school assemblies, for fear it would inspire resentment and increase the problem, the group appointed a four-man committee, headed by Clifford S. Lund, to workout another approach.

Tentatively suggested was a plan for selecting student officers and other leaders, drawing them into off-campus meetings and explaining how the community is hurt by the problem.

A still longer-range approach, that of working to provide better forms of teen-age recreation, was briefly touched on but rejected as being beyond the scope of the discussion.

Inverness Park Woman Is Hurt

Mrs. Charlotte Davis, 33, of Inverness Park suffered minor injuries yesterday at 5:55 p.m. in a two-car rear-end collision on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at Madrone Avenue in San Anselmo.

She was treated for bruises on the head and back at Marin General Hospital after her car was hit by one driven by Dorthe W. Whittington, 61, of 615 Fawn Drive, Sleepy Hollow.

Mrs. Davis said she had stopped for a pedestrian when her car was hit. Mrs. Whittington told San Anselmo police she was unable to stop her car in time to avoid the collision.

Queen Crowning, Dance To Feature Homecoming

Tamalpais High School's annual homecoming festivities will be held Friday and Saturday, beginning at 8 p.m. Friday when the Tamalpais Indians meet the Marin Catholic High School Wildcats in a football game on the College of Marin field.

During halftime, the homecoming queen will be crowned by Mike Walker, head yell leader. Candidates for queen are Sandy Richardson, Ruby McLin, Shelley Smith, Joan Taylor, and Nancy Gorrill.

Contestants were nominated by the Letterman Club and the queen is to be chosen by student body vote.

Saturday's homecoming dance will conclude activities, the dance to be at 8 p.m. in Ruby Scott Auditorium to music by Walter Toltson and his orchestra.

Each of the four classes will be in charge of decorating a section of the auditorium. There will be no parade along Miller Avenue in Mill Valley this year.

Election Aftermath

COLLEGE WANTS AUTOMATED ROOM

Pushbutton Device Links Teacher, Class To Check Understanding, Test Response

The administration of the College of Marin has asked permission to buy the first unit of an "automated classroom" to try out at the college this year.

Called the Edex classroom communicator, the device provides electronic communication between the teacher and each student in the class.

Each student's desk has four buttons. Multiple choice questions are answered by pressing one of the buttons its manufacturer claims. The machine immediately shows who understands a concept being explained, or who has done his homework study and who has not.

It also is intended to allow a teacher to quickly find trouble spots in his own presentation, and to concentrate on problems of particular students.

"No longer will a teacher merely have to think that the student is not keeping up with the class," declared Roy G. Mikalson, assistant dean of instruction. "He will have evidence from the total responses that the individual student has not been keeping up."

Mikalson and several teachers went to Palo Alto last month to watch one of the machines in use at Cubberley High School. They also saw a more complicated device, the Edex multimedia automated classroom, give a refresher course to Greyhound bus drivers without a teacher present.

At the high school demonstration, Mikalson said, the machine could actually be used to stimulate classroom discussion.

"Two students disagreed on a matter," he related. "One, who lacked the self-confidence of the other, was about to give in and accept the opinion of his opponent when Mr. Butterfield, the teacher, consulted his dials and remarked, 'You seem to have about eight members of the class behind you, Joe. Now what basis do you have for your opinion?'

"The student then explained quite logically how he had arrived at his answer."

Mikalson said, the main limitation of the machine is that discussion-type questions, requiring long answers, are not possible.

Also, the machine can become a "gadget" which becomes important for itself rather than for how it can help improve instruction, he remarked.

Finally, bright students can figure out ways to cheat if the machine is used for testing, Mikalson warned. It should not be used to replace normal testing procedures, he stressed.

The device, for 40 students, costs $2,600.

Sukarno Honored At Okinawa Base

NAHA, Okinawa (AP) — President Sukarno of Indonesia flew from Shanghai, Red China, to the U.S. military base on Okinawa today on his way home to Jakarta.

An honor guard and a 21-gun salute greeted him. He toured the base by automobile for an hour.

CHAMP'S SON WINS — Only California Democrat to unseat an incumbent Republican congressman is John Varick Tunney, 30, son of former heavyweight boxing champ Gene Tunney. State's Demos Keep Congressional Edge

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Democrats held their 23-15 margin in California's delegation to the U.S. House of Representatives in Tuesday's elections, making up for an unexpected defeat by beating a favored Republican incumbent.

Trailing in early returns, John V. Tunney, 30, an attorney and son of former world heavyweight champion Gene Tunney, unseated Republican Rep. Patrick Minor Martin of Riverside.

That made up for the loss in Los Angeles County's heavily Democratic 27th District. There, Republican Ed Reinecke, with the backing of the conservative United Republicans of California, whipped Assemblyman Tom Bane (D-Tujunga).

Bane, a lieutenant of Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, had been expected to take the place of Rep. Everett G. Burkhalter, a 69-year-old Democrat who retired after one term.

John Bircher Gets State Senate Seat

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—John G. Schmitz, the first publicly acknowledged member of the John Birch Society to be elected to the California Legislature, yesterday credited his victory to "intense grass roots campaigning."

Schmitz, 34, a college instructor, was one of eight Birch Society candidates seeking seats in the Legislature or Congress from California. The seven other candidates, all bucking strong Democratic registration in their districts, were defeated by incumbents.

Schmitz defeated Santa Ana attorney Robert Battin for the 35th State Senate District seat which was vacated when John Murdy Jr. declined to seek re-election.

Schmitz is a philosophy and political science instructor at Santa Ana College.

Proposition 14 Heads For Court Challenge

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Californians have made known their opposition to state laws banning discrimination in housing, but the final word on the boiling controversy probably will come in the courts.

This was indicated today as foes of Proposition 14—the housing initiative on Tuesday's ballot that won approval by more than 1.5 million votes—headed for court challenges of the result.

The effect of the vote was to nullify most of the Rumford Act, passed by the 1963 Legislature in a bitter battle. That act outlawed discrimination because of race, religion or national origin in about 70 per cent of state housing.

Passage of Proposition 14 also —if upheld—will prohibit legislature or local governments in the future from passing legislation dealing with discrimination in housing.

Only voter approval of another constitutional amendment would again allow legislation dealing with the matter.

Sacramento attorney Nathanel Colley, regional counsel for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, said he will file suit "within one week" in the State Supreme Court asking that certification of the results of Proposition 14 not be accepted.

Murphy Says Debate Key To His Victory

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Democrats blamed a state civil rights issue and Republican charges of carpetbagging today for the upset defeat of Sen. Pierre Salinger, one-time presidential press aide who became a victim of California's split-ticket voting.

George Murphy credited his victory to a campaign television debate that:

"I think was a real tactical error on Salinger's part."

The 165,000 vote defeat so impressed Salinger, he told newsmen:

"I would consider an early resignation."

President Lyndon B. Johnson, Salinger's former White House boss, coasted to a 1.3 million vote victory over Barry M. Goldwater, putting the nation's most populous state in the Democratic column for the first time since 1948.

With 30,230 of 31,498 precincts reporting, Johnson had 3,905,615 and Goldwater 2,650,673.

In 30,126 precincts, Murphy had 3,343,562, Salinger 3,176,103.

Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown indicated yesterday that Salinger had been the president's hand-picked choice to replace the late Sen. Clair Engle.

During a news conference, Brown said he had appointed Salinger to the Senate "at the request of the president of the United States."

"I had thought of several others," Brown added, "but I left the choice to the president and to Salinger himself."

In announcing the appointment last August, Brown said the selection of Salinger had been his own decision.

If Salinger resigns his post will Brown appoint senator-elect George Murphy to the job?

"I'd want to give it a little thought," the governor said yesterday.

Sausalito Waterfront Plan Gains

Sausalito planning commissioners last night approved the scope of the "701" program under which the city plans to apply for federal funds to use in planning the central waterfront.

The commission's recommendation lists work elements including preparation of base maps, visual, traffic and engineering studies, to culminate in a revision of the general plan and a diagram for the waterfront area.

Application for funds is to be made to the housing and home finance agency in Washington, D.C.

Commissioners were advised that Mrs. Florette W. Pomeroy of 67 San Carlos Avenue, a commissioner, is resigning because of business commitments.

The commission approved a minor subdivision in Marinship for Gordon Onslow-Ford, splitting a parcel of about 95,000 square feet into three parcels. Commissioners discussed whether the city-owned bus depot should be turned over to commercial use or maintained as a depot but took no action, said Chairman Robert L. Nissen.

Election Cliff-Hangers In Southwest, Alaska

COMBINED UPI & AP

With only 20,000 absentee ballots to be counted, it appeared today Sen. Barry M. Goldwater carried his home state by the closest margin in his 12-year political history.

Final tabulation of absentee ballots in the Republican presidential candidate's home county of Maricopa were expected today. The final tally was anticipated to see him expand slightly on his Arizona lead over President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Goldwater led in 741 of 741 precincts 229,868 to 226,959.

Lt. Gov. Paul Laxalt, trailing by 114 unofficial votes in Nevada's U.S. Senate race, may ask for a recount.

Laxalt's opponent, Democratic Sen. Howard W. Cannon, led a contest which see-sawed since the polls closed Tuesday night.

Laxalt said today he might ask for a recount if the State Supreme Court canvass Nov. 25 does not put him on top again.

The unofficial vote today was 67,303 for Cannon and 67,189 for Laxalt.

Absentee ballots apparently hold the key to the winner of Alaska's lone seat in the U.S. House of Representatives.

With 320 of the state's 356 precincts reported last night, Democratic incumbent Ralph J. Rivers led Republican Lowell Thomas Jr., 30,466 to 29,991. About 4,500 absentee ballots will be counted next week.

Mooring Lines Mystery Is Solved As Dogs Found

The Marin County Sheriff's Marine Patrol, puzzled for more than a week by almost nightly severings of boat mooring lines, finally found the culprits last night: a pair of German shepherd dogs.

Almost every morning during the last week and a half, employees of Channel Boat Sales and the Dolphin Boatel, where patrol members moor their boats, have found as many as 10 boats held by one mooring line only.

On Sunday night, one boat was cut entirely loose except for a water line. The owner, Victor Muzio, and another patrol member, Lt. Frank Miller, decided the danger warranted a stakeout.

At 11:30 p.m. yesterday, the two dogs showed up and went right to work, chewing three mooring lines within seconds. Muzio and Miller called the county humane society and the dogs were taken to the shelter.

The owner is registered as W. Van Huckey of 32 Alta Vista Way, but this morning no one answered the telephone number listed with the society.

Owners Group Names Members

At a meeting last night attended by 80 members, the Peacock Gap Homeowners Assn. named new directors for 1965. Election of officers will be held at a later meeting.

Those named to the board were Mrs. John J. Jakoby, David B. Hudson, Mack B. Johnson, Bud H. McKean, Charles A. Madsen, Jack Oldfin, Bill Pearson, and Steve Maymire.

Outgoing president Donald L. Schewitzer will remain on the board in an advisory capacity.

Loch Lomond Owners Oppose Bay Filling

Members of the Loch Lomond Homeowners Assn. last night voted against filling any of the tidelands of San Rafael bay.

The action came after civil engineer Daniel P. Coleman had explained the proposed San Rafael Master Plan, which proposes a method to control filling of private tidelands.

Coleman, working with planning consultant William Spangle, has recommended a restriction to require developers to leave 25 per cent of the tideland acreage in open water.

Using this guideline, the planners have drawn two large residential lagoon areas, north and south of San Rafael Canal, as possible developments. The fill would extend to the edge of the private property line, which goes as far east as the Marin Islands.

Along the border would be the peripheral highway which Coleman said will be needed in about 15 years. The only alternative he saw to this route would be double-decking the present Highway 101 to get an additional eight lanes of traffic.

Rapid transit and hydrofoils might delay need for the second route, Coleman said.

The peripheral route would swing from the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge north along the border of the tidelands, around San Pedro Point and then across the tidelands in front of Gallinas Bay, making an enclosed water park.

Coleman repeatedly explained that he and Spangle indicated the filling in San Rafael Bay because the property is in private ownership. Unless the state or the city or some other body buys the property, the owners have a right to develop it, he said.

Loch Lomond residents, about 70 strong at the start of the session, were down to 40 strong when association president Frank Battat asked members for a discussion.

Battat himself urged that a second meeting be held next week for preparation of a comprehensive recommendation.

However, a show of hands indicated that the majority wanted to discuss it last night.

A motion was then made to call a vote to see how many favored a moratorium on bay fill. This was discussed at length. Battat thought such a stand, without further explanation, would be negative.

The wording of the motion shifted somewhat during the discussion until it said in effect that the vote would serve as a guide to directors and would be simply whether the association wants the bay filled for development.

Those left at the meeting voted for this overwhelmingly.

Battat then announced that a study session would probably be held next Wednesday, and the directors will prepare more specific recommendatins on the plan. All members may attend.

Battat also urged all members to attend the first public hearing by the San Rafael City Council on the plan, slated for 8 p.m. Monday at city hall. He said the association's recommendation would not be presented until the second public hearing, as yet unscheduled.

China's Chou On Way To Red Celebration

MOSCOW (UPI)—Premier Chou En-lai of Communist China was en route to Moscow today as a surprise guest for celebrations this Saturday of the 47th anniversary of the Russian revolution.

Chou is expected to assay the chances of settling the Sino-Soviet dispute in Peking's favor now that Nikita Khrushchev is gone.

Auto Strike Peace Gains

FREMONT (UPI)—Tentative agreement was reached today in the strike by the United Auto Workers Union against General Motors Corp. Fremont assembly plant.

In a joint statement issued this morning the union and company called the settlement "fair and equitable to all concerned."

The agreement is subject to ratification by members of the Union Local 1364.

GOP In Assembly Has Budget Power

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Republicans, who gained three Assembly seats despite President Lyndon B. Johnson's landslide, pointed today toward an all-out attack on new Democratic tax programs.

Battling a big Democratic registration lead in addition to Johnson's California victory, the Republicans retired three Democratic assemblymen and picked up a vacant seat in a usually Democratic district. One GOP assemblyman was defeated.

The new Assembly will convene in January with a lineup of 49 Democrats and 31 Republicans. The Senate came out of the election (27-13) Democratic.

The surprising results crushed Democratic hopes of winning a two-thirds majority of 54 in the Assembly to add to the two-thirds edge in the Senate.

Assemblyman Don Mulford (R-Oakland), chairman of the lower house GOP caucus, said the Republicans will withhold their budget votes if it's necessary to prevent the Democrats from "ramming through tax bills."

Both Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown and majority party lawmakers agree new tax legislation will be a top priority item.

GOP sources also spoke of the possibility of overturning the present floor leader, Charles Conrad of Sherman Oaks.

Mulford said he expected to be re-elected caucus chairman.

Two freshmen and an eight-year veteran were toppled by the Republicans.

Myron Frew of Dinuba, a veteran Democrat, couldn't withstand the challenge of Mayor Gordon W. Duffy of Hanford.

Freshman Harold Booth (D-Oakland) was beaten by Ray Johnson of Chico.

El Dorado County Supervisor Eugene A. Chappie of Cool, a Republican, beat Democrat Howard A. Smith of Auburn.

The Republican incumbent who lost his seat was James L. Holmes of Santa Barbara, who served 10 years. He was defeated by Democrat Winfield D. Shoemaker of Lompoc.

Negroes Win Four Seats In State Legislatures

CHICAGO (AP) — Negroes won seats in four state legislatures for the first time in Tuesday's elections and scored gains in other state and local contests.

They also gained at least 10 seats in legislatures of 10 states where Negroes had previously served.

The highest ranking Negro seeking re-election, Republican Atty. Gen. Edward W. Brooke of Massachusetts, piled up a 2-1 margin over Democratic State Sen. James W. Hennigan, who is white.

Brooke did not endorse Barry Goldwater.

Herman N. Holloway, former state representative, became the first Negro elected to Delaware's Senate. He is a Democrat.

E. Melvin Porter, an official of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People in Oklahoma City, won a seat in the state Senate, while John B. White, Archibald Hill and Curtis L. Lawton were elected to the House.

A. W. Willis, a Memphis, Tenn., lawyer who had represented James Meredith in his legal battle to enter the University of Mississippi, was elected to the Tennessee Assembly.

In New Jersey, the Rev. S. Howard Woodson Jr., will represent Mercer County Trenton in the Assembly.

James C. Flanigan trailed three other candidates, but captured the last of four vacancies for the post of district court judge in Colorado. He ousted a Republican incumbent in the eight-man race.

In Macon County, Ala., Dr. Charles Gomillion was elected to the county Board of Education. William C. Allen and William Childs won justice of the peace posts, and the Rev. V. A. Edwards, won a seat on the Board of Revenue, governing body of the county. Negroes outnumber whites in the county, but four other Negro candidates were defeated by Democrats. Most of the Negroes ran as independents.

Break-Ins Admitted By Youths

Five Tiburon youths between the ages of 13 and 15 have been cited to Marin County Juvenile Hall in the admitted break-ins and pilfering of three schools over the past several weeks, Marin County sheriff's officers reported today.

Deputies said questioning of one youth about a Tuesday entry of Reed Union School District offices at 1155 Tiburon Boulevard, Tiburon, revealed that he and others had removed less than $15 from envelopes deposited for school pictures.

Entry was by a key obtained by one of the quintet, officers said. Further investigation disclosed the boys also had entered Del Mar and Bel Aire Schools in the recent past, also using keys. Officers said several items including three radios, a flashlight, ink and a marking pencil were recovered.

Fiery Wire Causes Sausalito Blackout

Twenty-two hundred Sausalito homes were without electrical power last night when a loose connection on a wire caused insulation to burn on a high voltage line for a full block on Napa Street.

The fire started on a pole at Napa and Caledonia streets and spread a block uphill to Filbert Street.

"There was lots of smoke and a number of people turned out and many telephoned," reported Fireman Robert Arden. Chief Mathew J. Perry and 14 firemen stood by, using their "snorkel" truck for lighting but did not use any water.

The bulk of the city was effected, except for Hurricane Gulch, between 6:27 and 6:37 p.m., said Leonard O. Robertson, Pacific Gas and Electric Co. electric superintendent. Persons living in the one-block area on Napa Street were without power from about 6 to 8:57 p.m.

$185 Is Reported Stolen From Wallet

Theft of $185 from a wallet owned by Larry Fortado, 4350 Novato Boulevard, Novato, was reported yesterday by Marin County sheriff's officers.

Fortado told deputies the wallet, later found discarded, was taken Sunday from his unlocked car parked at home.

Name Picked By Boosters In Sausalito

Sausalito's newly formed merchants association set up two committees yesterday at a meeting at Zack's by the Bay and heard that members prefer the organizational name to be Sausalito Artists and Merchants.

Members cast these votes, on the name, said coordinator William W. Remak: For Sausalito Artists and Merchants, 17; Businessmen for Sausalito, 8, and Sausalito Festive Activities, 1. In all, 23 names were proposed.

Patricia Corbett was named to head a committee to work with the Sausalito People-to-People Committee to get flags, bunting and posters for the annual Sister City celebration in March. Sausalito's sister city is Vina del Mar, Chile.

John R. Minton was named committee head to explore possible work with service clubs for July 4 festivities, and Robert E. Rogers was asked to look into other possible festival participation.

The Texas Longhorns have finished in the top ten national ratings 10 times.

Rozelle Made Big Decision After Gambling Was Found In The NFL

(Editor's Note: This is the third of four articles on Pete Rozelle, National Football League Commissioner.)

Jack Hanley

For three months in 1963—from January to April—an ugly cloud hung over the National Football League. On Jan. 4, George Strickler, a Chicago Tribune reporter, ferreted out facts that temporarily tarnished the public image of the NFL. Strickler reported accurately that the U.S. Senate rackets committee was looking into the betting habits and the associates of some NFL players.

WAS PETE ROZELLE, the recently elected and youthful new commissioner of the league, trying to hide some dirty NFL linen? Was pro football facing the kind of Black Sox scandal that rocked baseball in 1919? As subsequent developments proved, Rozelle already had his own investigating staff of 16 former FBI agents at work.

"We had hoped," said Rozelle, "to complete a thorough investigation of the Paul Hornung-Alex Karras betting charges before they became public. We found this wasn't possible. When we delaped punishment pending complete reports, we were charged with an attempt to whitewash the situation. Nothing could have been further from the truth."

IT WASN'T until April 17 that Rozelle announced the results of the investigation and the indefinite suspensions of Hornung and Karras, suspensions that were lifted this year. Neither Hornung nor Karras ever bet against their own teams or performed less than their best in any game. But because NFL rules prohibit players from betting on any team, they were suspended for a year.

"It was the most difficult decision I've ever had to make in my life," said Rozelle. "But the NFL has grown to such stature that now it has only one fear—loss of face, harm to its image, damage to its integrity. This must be combated at all costs. Thus, the suspensions.

"I DISLIKED the role of investigator, prosecutor and judge, so I divorced myself from the investigation during its early stages. It was a thorough investigation without becoming a witch hunt. After all, we have over 500 players in the league and we didn't want to hound anyone.

"Surveillance is another matter. It's continuing. It's something you have to do the year around."

(Tomorrow: Rozelle looks at himself)

NCAA Bangs Miami, Navy, MSU

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The NCAA has barred Miami of Florida from participation in its annual post-season basketball tournament and slapped Michigan State and Navy with probationary sentences for recruiting violations.

The steps were taken yesterday by the NCAA's 18-man policy-making Council, which at the same time fired the first salvo in renewing the battle with the Amateur Athletic Union over the right to sanction track and field competitions.

Four member schools — Western State of Colorado also was involved — were penalized by the NCAA for "excessive financial aid and recruiting violations," but only Miami was barred from post-season activity.

The ruling, which places Miami on probation for one year and bans the school from the NCAA basketball tournament as well as other major post-season affairs cooperating with the NCAA, came about because of an incident last year.

The council said a representative of "Miami's athletic interests" gave a basketball player free room and board and paid for his air travel for several trips made in 1963.

Miami President Henry King Stanford said the violation was unintentional but the school respects the decision and will abide by it.

"The decision of the NCAA was based upon their judgment that the father of a basketball player became 'a representative of the athletic interests' of the university," Stanford said.

"Certainly the assistance which the parent subsequently gave the student, a friend of his son. . . was not an intentional violation."

Michigan State was placed on probation for three years but additional sanctions were suspended because the school corrected the violations after the 1958-59 college year.

Navy received a one-year probation with no additional penalties.

Neither the Spartans nor the Middies are banned from post-season activity under the ruling.

Western State was suprimanded and censured because it gave a wrestler a grant of tuition and fees after he already had a job.

Dayton University was restored to full rights and privileges after completing two years on probation for a basketball recruiting violation.

The Michigan State penalty, which puts the school on probation Until Nov. 4, 1967, involved a knotty problem.

The NCAA Committee on Infractions learned about a year ago that a secret fund had existed through which payments were made to football players for tuition, spending money and other purposes. There was, however, no evidence that university officials knew about the fund.

Investigation showed at least 10 football players had received illegal payments during the 1957-59 period before Coach Hugh (Duffy) Daugherty decided the fund was improper and told the athletes the payments would end in 1959.

In the Navy case, the NCAA found that a representative outside the Naval Academy had paid for the transportation of four players from the Norfolk, Va., area to the 1964 Cotton Bowl game at Dallas.

When the Council finished handing out penalties, it turned to the AAU and signalled the end of the truce which had been arranged by the late Gen. Douglas MacArthur. The truce was to have lasted until the end of the Tokyo Olympic Games.

The right to sanction events has been the disputed point in the struggle between the two groups and has continued for more than three years. The AAU claims the sole right to sanction meets.

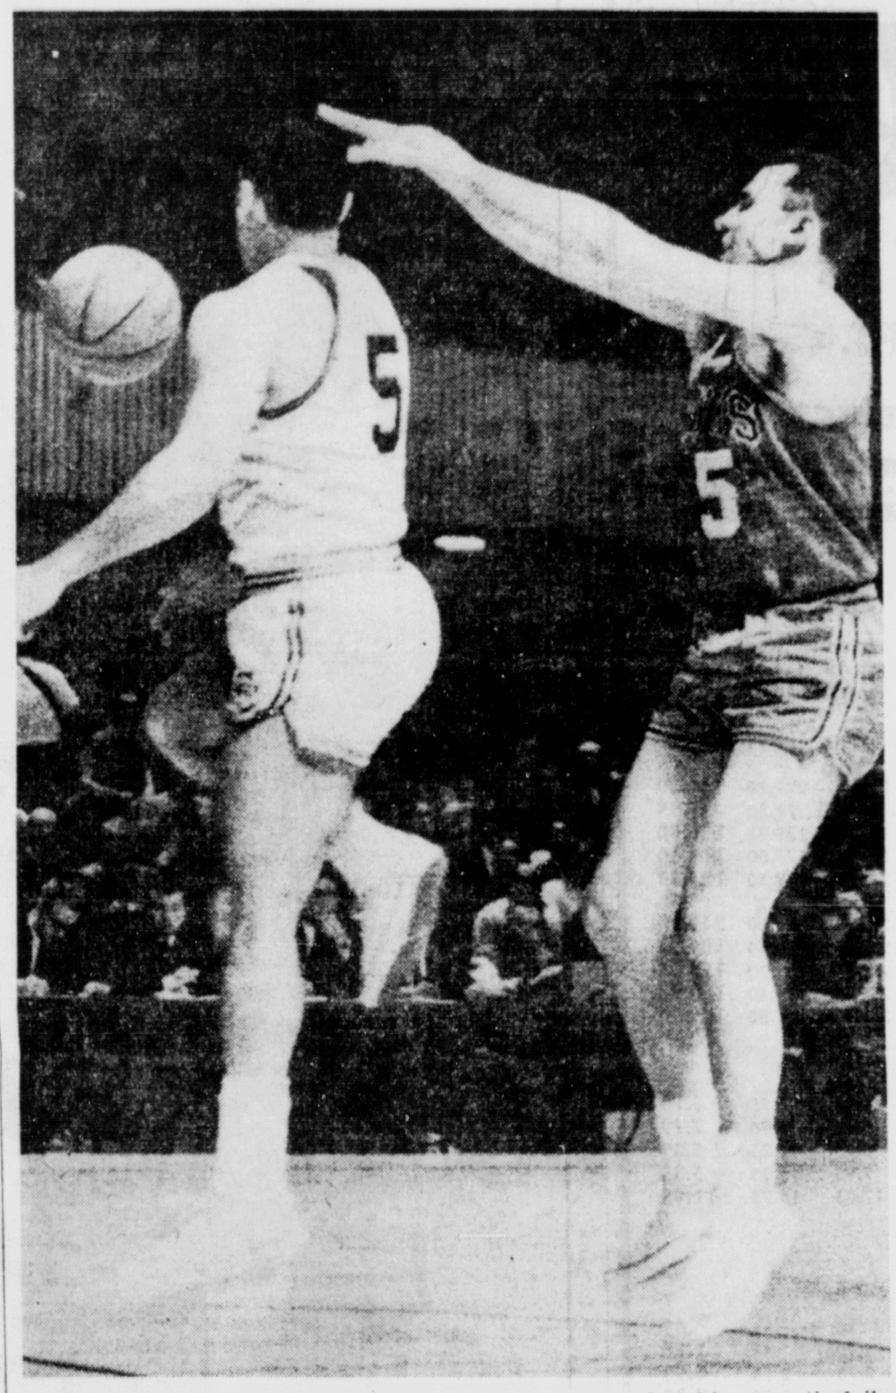

The NCAA, however, re-affirmed the position taken in a resolution adopted last January.

The resolution stated:

"The member institutions of the NCAA will support only those meets and tournaments which have obtained sanctions from the established sports federations in basketball, track and field, baseball and gymnastics."

The federations are backed by the NCAA.

The matter is likely to come to a head during the winter indoor track season, in which meets rely heavily on college athletes.

Arson Suspected In $300,000 Barn Fire

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — Fire officials are investigating the possibility of arson in the $300,000 barn fire that killed 32 thoroughbreds and three stable ponies at Laurel Race Course.

John D. Schapiro, Laurel president, told a news conference yesterday that the fire spread swiftly and "every fire of this sort has to be investigated for the possibility of arson."

He said that track officials "have no idea what caused the fire," but added there was no defective wiring or heating in the area.

It was first believed that 37 horses had been killed, but two of them were later found.

R. Bruce Livie, chairman of the Maryland Racing Commission, also attended the news conference after he and Schapiro conferred with county police and fire officials.

"I have never seen a fire go through a barn so quickly, nor have I seen one so completely gutted in such a short time," Livie said.

The horses were trapped as the straw-fed fire quickly burned out of control after a stablehand first saw a red glow about 9:30 p.m. Tuesday.

"I was listening to the election results on my radio when I saw this big puff of flame in the feed room," said Tom Queen, a groom from Washington, D.C.

"In a couple of minutes, the barn was burning from end to end. Everybody tried but we didn't have a chance.

"Some fellows put coats and blankets over their heads and tried to get to the horses. But the flames were too hot."

Entries in the $150,000 Washington, D.C., International to be run at Laurel next Wednesday were 500 feet away from the blazing 35-foot wooden barn. None was injured.

Nikolai Nasibov, the top Russian jockey who will ride Anilin in the 1¼-mile race on the turf, rounded up three or four loose horses and walked them to safety.

The trainer hardest hit was Grover G. Buddy Delp of Churchville, Md. He lost 29 of his 31-horse string. Delp said he believed arson or a carelessly tossed cigarette might have been responsible for the blaze.

Frank W. Burgess, head of the Anne Arundel County Fire Prevention Bureau, expressed a similar opinion.

All thoroughbreds lost in the blaze were covered by some type of insurance.

What? A Parade For S.F. Seals?

They had a parade for the floundering San Francisco Seals this morning before throwing them onto the rink tonight against the rugged Vancouver Canucks.

Despite seven losses in their first nine games in the Western Hockey League this season, the Seals were feted in a downtown San Francisco ceremony to hail the fact that they won the WHL's playoff crown for the second straight time last March.

Since then, however, the club has bowed to Vancouver by scores of 7-0 and 10-1 during a poor start that resulted in general manager Bud Poile replacing Nick Mickoski as head coach.

Mickoski, who had been running the club in civvies, is slated to be back on the blades tonight in a bid to rebuild up the Seals weak power plays.

Poile was coaching the club last season when he gave way to Mickoski after a six-game losing streak. Nick rallied the troops for their big comeback but the spark didn't last.

Vancouver is a much stronger club this season with the addition of defenseman Bill Burega of the Los Angeles Blades. And greying Phil Maloney, long an institution with the Canucks, goes into the contest with eight goals to his credit with their campaign only 11 games old.

Fox Slips Into Ranks Of Giants

New manager Herman Franks will operate the San Francisco Giants in 1965 with a board of strategy consisting of two holdover coaches from the Alvin Dark regime plus newcomer Charley Fox.

The Giants announced Wednesday that pitching coach Larry Jansen and veteran major leaguer Harry (Cookie) Lavagetto have been signed again. Whitey Lockman was not retained.

Fox, 43, has spent 23 years in the Giants organization as a player and minor league manager. Last season he piloted Tacoma, Wash., which finished fifth in the Pacific Coast League's Western Division.

Prior to announcement that Franks would replace Dark as manager, there was speculation that Fox was the choice for that job.

A native of New York City,Fox was a resident of Massillon,Ohio, for several years and last season moved to Tacoma.

Lavagetto lives in Oakland and joined the Giants coaching staff last year. He played and managed in the major leagues.

Jansen has been the pitching coach since 1961 and formerly was a star hurler with the club. Before that he was a standout with San Francisco of the PCL.

Shofner Out For Season

NEW YORK (AP) — Del Shofner, star pass catcher of the New York Giants, may be lost to the National Football League club for the rest of the season because of stomach ulcers.

Shofner sat out last Sunday's St. Louis game with a liver virus and severe cold. He entered St. Elizabeth's Hospital Sunday night for rest and examination. Blood tests revealed the aggravated ulcer condition.

Shofner, who has been troubled with ulcers throughout his career as a pro, reported to the Giants' camp underweight at 170 pounds. He missed the Giants' opener with a pulled hamstring muscle and hurt his left thumb against Cleveland two weeks ago.

He will remain in the hospital from 10 days to two weeks. Joe Morrison inherits his split end spot in the Giants' offense.

MINNESOTA BACK JOINS THE 49ERS

The San Francisco 49ers announced yesterday they had obtained defensive back Charles Britt on waivers from the Minnesota Vikings.

Britt, a five-year man in the National Football League, is flying to San Francisco and will work out with the pro team today, the club said.

He played college football at University of Georgia. Britt is 6-2 and 180 pounds. He will be available to play Sunday against the Vikings in Minneapolis.

Wilt And Warriors Lose To Hawks By One Point

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Towering Wilt Chamberlain is a 48-minute man again and San Francisco Warrior Coach Alex Hannum is hoping the big center can weld the Warriors back into a winning club again.

Chamberlain, who missed the Warriors' first five National Basketball Association games because of an inflammation of the pancreas, played the entire game last night.

But the Warriors lost 105-104 to the St. Louis Hawks.

In the only other game played, the Baltimore Bullets whipped the Pistons 121-108 in Detroit.

"Who ever would have thought we would be 1-6 at this point?" Hannum commented after the Hawks' win over San Francisco.

Wilt, who was visibly weak last week when he returned to the court after more than a month's absence, demonstrated his old style again. He said he was not "particularly tired" after the game.

He contributed 37 points. He demonstrated that his strength had returned by snaring 27 rebounds — a spot where the Warriors had been weak without Wilt.

The Hawks' victory moved them into sole possession of first place in the Western Division with a 5-3 record. They had been tied with Los Angeles for division honors.

Bob Pettit led the Hawks with 19 points.

Cliff Hagan boosted the Hawks to a 56-52 halftime lead with 10 points in the second quarter.

Bailey Howell and Don Ohl, who were traded by Detroit to Baltimore last summer in an eight-player trade, triggered the Bullets' victory over the Pistons.

With Detroit leading 68-64 in the third period, the pair hit nine straight shots between them — five by Howell. Howell added six free throws as the Bullets opened a 90-85 lead.

Howell's 30 points led Baltimore, which won its third straight — all on the road. Terry Dischinger and Reggie Harding collected 23 points apiece for the Pistons, who lost their fifth in a row.

Injured Basketballer Gets Past The First Big Crisis

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Basketball player Bob Swaffar passed the first crisis successfully today in an aftermath to surgery to reimplant his severed right arm.

Surgeons at the University of Oklahoma Medical Center Hospital said the possibility that the 20-year-old Oklahoma State University athlete will keep the arm "looks promising." However, a hospital spokesman said, the threat of infection and blood clots will remain for another week or two.

Doctors said the first critical period would be the first 72 hours following the reimplantation. That period passed at 8 a.m. today with no complications.

The hospital said the reimplanted arm "looks good and circulation is good." Swelling also had decreased. Swaffar's mental outlook was described as "as good as could be expected."

Swaffar's arm was severed when it was caught in a water extraction machine in the OSU athletic department's laundry Sunday night.

Colt Rookie On Probation

BALTIMORE (AP) — A little rough play off the football field brought Baltimore Colt rookie Joe Don Looney a couple of fines, a year's probation, a stern lecture by a judge and the job of finding a new neighborhood to live in.

Looney appeared in Municipal Court yesterday charged with smashing down the door of a neighbor's apartment and striking a friend of the neighbor.

Judge I. Sewell Landin gave the 236-pound fullback a year's probation. As a condition of the probation, Judge Landin fined the 22-year-old Looney $100 on the assault charge and $50 on a malicious mischief charge and ordered him to pay court costs and half the cost of the door. He also told Looney to move to a new neighborhood.

Earlier in the day Judge Landin fined Preston R. Smith, 21, described as a high school friend and roommate of Looney, and gave him a suspended jail sentence in the same case.

Colt Coach Don Shula said he, too, would fine Looney.

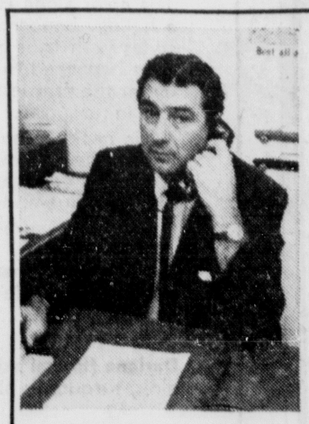

"He violated a club policy and committed an act detrimental to the football team.

"I'm sorry this happened, and Looney is sorry, too. He has worked real well since he came to us. I have no complaints on that subject."

Looney testified in court that he was looking for some girls in the apartment building. Looney said he went to Robert Shu's apartment, and thought Shu was not telling the truth when he said he did not know where the girls were. Looney said he thought Shu's friend, Richard V. Smith, had insulted his father.

"My attitude toward the matter is that it is all a big mistake," Looney said. "I went off the deep end. I had a few beers."

Drake, Terra Linda Top Grid Statistics

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Drake and Terra Linda high schools dominate the statistics in the Marin Athletic League, according to figures compiled by the Independent-Journal.

Dean Lazzarini, Drake's junior halfback, is the league's leading rusher and scorer, with 389 yards and 38 points scored. He has averaged 7.3 yards per carry. He is trailed by Novato's tailback Dick Otis in the rushing department, Otis having 372 yards gained.

Terra Linda quarterback Gary Lieberman moved back on top of the passing statistics with 372 yards. He has connected on 28 of 58 pass attempts.

Larry Stein, another Drake boy, has caught 13 passes for 319 yards to head the league's receivers.

Terra Linda, with a one-game advantage over most of the other teams in the MAL, leads the league in rushing yardage and total offense with 850 and 1,297 yards respectively. Drake has most passing yardage, 545.

The Pirates of Drake lead in rushing defense (296 yards) and total defense (568 yards), and Novato leads in passing defense with 203 yards marked off against it.

If Drake gets by San Rafael Saturday afternoon, it will match Terra Linda's 8-0 season record, setting the stage for the year's big game on Nov. 14 between the two schools. Terra Linda, with a 5-0 league mark, gets a bye this week. Drake is 4-0 in league play.

The Drake-San Rafael game will be played in Kentfield, starting at 2 p.m. In other league action this week, Marin Catholic and Tamalpais bump heads tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in San Rafael, and Redwood travels to Novato for a 2 p. m. game Saturday.

Weber Has An Early PBA Lead

GARDEN CITY, N.Y. (AP) — Dick Weber of St. Louis has taken the early lead in the $60,000 fifth annual national championship of the Professional Bowlers Association.

Weber banged out a 1350 six-game block in his first assault on the pins yesterday afternoon, and then came back with a 1235 series at night, to take a slim 17-pin lead over diminutive Mike Samardzija of Pontiac, Mich., after 12 games. Weber's total was 2585.

The five day championship test runs through Sunday, with first place worth $7,500, plus the honor of holding bowling's most prestigious title.

Weber won the All-Star title in 1962 and again in 1963, and is runner-up in the PBA average race for the season.

The biggest thrill of the opening day was furnished by slim 25-year-old Jerry Hale of Richmond, Calif. Hale bombed the pins last night for a six game series of 1425, one of the highest six game totals fired in the PBA this year. The outburst jumped him all the way into 15th place

Several other favorites were among the leaders at the end of the first day.

Veteran Harry Smith of Baltimore had blocks of 1298 and 1264 good for a 2562 total and third place. Jim Robinette, of Falls Church, Va., was fourth with a 12 game total of 2550, while Bill Allen of Orlando, Fla. and Don Carter of St. Louis were fifth and sixth. Carter won the national title in 1960, while Allen is currently the leading money winner on the tour.

Twelve more games will be bowled today and the field will be cut to the top 96 tonight.

Hearing Underway On Braves-Atlanta Deal

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Oral arguments were set to begin today in a U.S. District Court hearing sought by the Braves in an apparent move to speed their shift to Atlanta for the 1965 season.

The Braves said yesterday they were dropping four clubs from their farm system — Denver of the Pacific Coast League, Toronto of the International League, Austin of the Texas League and Greenville, S.C. of the Western Carolinas circuit.

They retained two other minor league clubs, Yakima, Wash., of the Northwest League and Binghamton of the New York-Pennsylvania League.

The announcement added the Braves would definitely have a Triple A team somewhere next year. The Denver, Toronto and Atlanta franchises are all in Triple A leagues. The Braves own the players on the Denver roster.

Milwaukee Sentinel baseball writer Red Thisted said in a story for today's editions that he had learned the Braves were considering purchase of the Atlanta franchise.

If the Braves are unable to move to Atlanta, Thisted said, the purchase of the International League franchise would serve a two-fold purpose — continued development of the players and a chance for Atlantans to see some of the youngsters who will eventually wear Braves uniforms.

The Braves have drafted major league rights to Atlanta and if they lose their court fight would be free to move there after their rental contract for County Stadium expires on Dec. 31, 1965.

The court fight centers on efforts by Milwaukee County to force the Braves to meet requirements of the contract, which requires the Braves to play all of their 1965 home games in County Stadium.

The county obtained in a state circuit court a temporary order restraining the Braves from moving or from asking other National League owners for the needed approval of the shift.

The hearing beginning at 10 a.m., CST, today was called to take up a Braves' request that the federal court take jurisdiction.

The Braves, who shifted their executive offices to Chicago shortly after the close of the 1964 season, said in written arguments the case belonged in federal court because Chicago is their principal place of business and because principal parties in the suit do not live in Wisconsin. A syndicate of Chicago area men owns the majority of the club's stock.

Ray McCann, attorney for the Braves, said that if the federal court takes jurisdiction, he may move to vacate the temporary state court order.

Putting Up A Tent Sounds Easy; Oh Yeh? Just Try It Sometime

Do you remember when camping out was considered a lightly-hazardous sport? Because setting up a tent was an extremely involved affair—one from which the participants usually emerged with sprained backs, missing fingernails and diabolical dispositions.

If you assume that all of these old tents are long gone, to wherever old relics go, we can tell you this is not so. Alas! This summer a relative of our lent us one. "Take it along," he said magnanimously, "keep it as long as you like."

It was a huge cobwebby, dusty pack, bonelessly suggestive as a horror from Dracula's basement. Holding his nose, he wacked it with a broom. Three black widow spiders and a mouse ran out. A rusted campaign button — Thomas Dewey for President — clanked out. "They don't make them like this anymore," he remarked sadly.

HOW, EXACTLY, do you go about telling a relative you would rather not? Especially when you clearly see he's still idiotically in love with the awful anachorism. You don't, of course. Somehow, with strength from heaven knows where, we stuffed the Thing into the boat—wishing we had overload springs. So it was in. Getting it out without a derrick would be another worry.

Out of necessity, we selected an uncommonly large campsite to accommodate the Thing. Then, stretched out on the ground, we saw it for what it was. Barnum & Bailey's main tent.

Originally, there must have been directions, perhaps even a schematic diagram. Or better yet a staff of skilled personal instructors. Came then a conference. Then a bit of exploratory experimentation and regretably lax language. Finally the general consensus: The enigma of the atom and the complexity of Einstein's theory of relativity were nursery-room flapdoodle when compared with the scholastic requirements of tent-raising.

THERE IT lay, on a bed of leaf mold, high in the Sierra Mountains. Night was approaching. We lit a lantern, hanging our slack-jawed faces over nuts, bolts and turnbuckles . . . also short, long medium and little bitsy poles; and an incalcuable number of pegs—all sizes . . . not to mention a jumble of springs, from Swiss watch maker to bed spring sizes. Probably the most mysterious assortment of all was that of brass rings and bits of twine and frayed rope.

It seemed fairly logical, as a start, for someone brave, strong as a horse, and simple-minded, to go beneath and set up a pole or two. Just getting the Thing off the ground should constitute some type of minor triumph, we felt.

Then all hands picked up some folds to take the strain off; and it did seem to be going along quite well . . . when—Yes it did. Collapse. Right on top of the brave fellow underneath. Oh, we could see his outline all right. He was down flat. Every one milled about trying to find an opening so we could pull him out. "Speak to us," we cried. How long could he survive without air?

OUT AT LAST, he washed the dust out of his ears, refusing to have anything further to do with the project; becoming actually anti-social.

Eventually it was up. Five ground pegs and 18 brass rings, loads of string and two important appearing poles left over. Stretched too taut here . . . too loose there, it leaned to the east in monumental decay, smelling like ancient oak leaves and other more primordial things.

We moved sleeping bags and cots inside, and passed out with weariness.

Sometime toward dawn—there was actually no record of the time — an almost imperceptible breeze sighed over the tent. At the same time an acorn plopped on the top. Then, like an undecided drunk, it collapsed, one section at a time.

ALWAYS RETURN a borrowed item the way you found it—even if it kills you. That was our motto, and we tried. We really tried. "Keep it," the owner absolutely insisted, even before we could get out of our car. "I just bought a new tent. You know the type . . . has a sort of umbrella . . . goes up in five minutes . . . light as a feather . . . " and he laughed gleefully.

Wel-l—! Want to borrow a tent —anyone??

Happy Days Are Here For The Striper Anglers; Big Catches

STEVENS

I've been waiting a long time to be able to say that, but I can today. The San Pablo Bay and the Suisun Bay must be loaded with striped bass. Even on stormy days such as last Thursday and last Sunday, the few hardy souls that bucked the tides, the wind and the rain scored heavily on bait — sardines, sand-and-blood worms.

AS YOU all know, Sunday was a blowout for most anglers, but these hardy souls took a great many fish. Dick Payne of the San Lorenzo Bait and Tackle Shop called to report limit catches made in the Suisun Bay near the mothball fleet by Earl Hastings, Johnny Marino and Pete Goveira. Fish ran from 10 to 27 pounds, and the boys bucked pretty inclement weather and rough water on Sunday.

From Joe Nerviani, head man at Joe's Launching, Santa Venetia, I learned that on Saturday between 90 and 100 stripers were taken—"The average, I judge was maybe seven pounds, but quite a few larger bass—12's and 14's were included in the catch. Mostly sardines were used with one or two anglers using bullheads.

SO IT WOULD seem that both sides of the San Pablo Bay produced. The Rodeo Marina had a field day on Saturday, only fair on Sunday due to weather and water conditions, but on Monday it became as good or even better than on Saturday, which was a banner day. Talking over the phone I was told that the large party-boat, the Blue Fish, came to port with limits all around of fresh-run bass to 15 pounds. The locale was Buoy 8, and most of the fish were taken on bullheads.

Seems someone told Nadine Lessley of Dowrelio's at Crockett that bullheads couldn't be used while fishing from a party boat. The stunt of the Blue Fish proves differently. Incidentally, Nadine waxed eloquent in speaking of the fishing generally. "I'm tickled pink that I can give you a good report." She then mentioned that bait fishing—sardines, sand and blood worms and bullheads—has been very, very good. Specifically Nadine mentioned that Bob O'Brien came in Monday with limits all around to 18 pounds. Johnny Sivera maintained a two-fish-per-rod average even on stormy Sunday.

SALMON FISHING appears to be still in the doldrums. Caruso's reported slow fishing the past few days. High boat, I gathered, was the Ma-Ru with seven salmon for his party. That score was equaled by the Wilma H out of Berkeley Harbor, as reported by Hal Boenner of Lee Anderson's. Hal also mentioned Bud Smith troled for a bass limit by noon on Monday. Bud didn't say where he fished, so I can't pass that info along.

It's certainly possible to get too much of anything. Last Thursday's storm and for the time between then and Monday night was definitely the sort of weather the duck hunters prayed for, but not in such large doses. From Sunday on, good reports of duck hunting have been few and far between. Old timers claim that the birds stay away for two three or more days after a severe storm but return in full force later. So that's it for today. Chow!

Pitt Next For Notre Dame

Coach Ara Parseghian said he was instrumental in Irish scoring drives against Navy in the second half last week because of his blocking. He indicated Snowden, in his first full year at the tackle spot, will see considerable service at Pittsburgh Saturday.

WATCH OUT CHICAGO BEARS

Baltimore Colts coach Don Shula (right) goes over a play diagram with quarterback John Unitas (letf), the National Football League's leading passer, and Lenny Moore, the league's top scorer. Moore and Unitas are two big reasons the Colts are riding on top of the Western Division standings. Milt Plum NFL Player Of Week

DETROIT (AP) — Milt Plum, a man of few words, was pleased at being named Player of the Week in the National Football League. "It's always great to see an honor such as that," said the Detroit Lions' quarterback.

For Plum, who is quiet and reserved, this seemed a good deal to say at one time.

The 29-year-old veteran signal-caller and passer received the Associated Press' weekly star citation for his handling of the Lions in their 37-17 victory over the Los Angeles Rams last Sunday.

Plum, despite an injury to his right elbow, threw three touchdown passes and had 13 other completions in 24 attempts for 347 yards.

The day was one of the best in Milt's career. But he recalled he did as well against the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1962. In that game he threw four touchdown passes as the Lions won 45-7.

Plum, Detroit's No. 1 quarterback with Earl Morrall out for the season because of a broken collarbone, is treating his sore elbow with a combination of whirlpool baths and ice applications.

He says he understands this to be fairly new and identified as a "contrast treatment."

He alternates the warm and cold treatments thrice daily, though "I've slacked off a little this week."

The special point is that Plum wants to be in top shape for Detroit's game with the Green Bay Packers at Green Bay, Wis., next Sunday.

"No," said Milt flatly when asked about a forecast. "I never predict on a game."

"I realize," he said, "this is a 'must' game for us."

The Lions 5-2-1, have to win in order to stay on the heels of the Baltimore Colts, leaders of the NFL's Western Division. The Packers, 4-4, beat the Lions earlier this season 14-10.

Notre Dame Won't Play Bowl Game

OCALA, Fla. (AP) — Notre Dame's athletic director says there's "not one chance in a million" that the school's football team, No. 1 in the nation, will play in a post-season bowl.

"Notre Dame's policy will remain the same as it has been since 1925," Ed (Moose) Krause told the Ocala Quarterback Club last night. "We're not going to any bowl game."

Later, Krause was asked by a newsman if "there is one chance in a thousand" Notre Dame will accept a bowl bid.

"There's not one in a million, or perhaps one in a billion — in other words, none," Krause replied.

Phils' Gene Mauch Is AP Manager Of Year

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Philadelphia Phillies manager Gene Mauch was playing golf yesterday when he learned he had been named National League Manager of the Year for 1964 in the annual Associated Press poll.

"I don't know whether it affected my (golf) game or not," Mauch said today. "I don't remember how well I played after I found out."

It was the second time in three years the honor was bestowed on the handsome 38-year-old scrapper, who makes his home in nearby Hacienda Heights. He indicated, however, that the title meant more to him the first time he won it, in 1962.

"The circumstances are quite different this time," he said.

Among the circumstances this year:

—With only two weeks left to play, his Phillies had what appeared to be an insurmountable 6½-game lead.

—But they dropped 10 games in a row from Sept. 21 through Sept. 30, then rebounded to win the final two from Cincinnati to finish in a second-place tie with the Reds—one game behind St. Louis.

Runner-up in the poll was Johnny Keane of the World Champion St. Louis Cardinals. Keane, with 16 votes, was followed by Dick Sisler, three votes. Sisler filled in for the ailing Fred Hutchinson at Cincinnati. Hutchinson drew the last vote.

Keane Wins UPI Poll For Top Manager

NEW YORK (UPI) — Johnny Keane, who led the St. Louis Cardinals to the National League pennant and an upset victory over the New York Yankees in the World Series, was named the National League's manager of the year today by the United Press International.

The 52-year-old Keane, who climaxed the amazing season by quitting the Cardinals to become manager of the Yankees after the World Series, was the choice of 13 of the writers who made up the 1964 UPI's 20-man board of baseball experts.

Gene Mauch, the inspirational pilot of the Philadelphia Phillies, finished second.

Indians Prepare For USC

STANFORD, Calif. (AP)—The Indians are concentrating on their ground attack as they prep for Saturday's game with USC, a team that has beaten Stanford their last six encounters.

Coach John Ralston said that yesterday's workout was "spirited." In a practice scrimmage, back Bob Blunt caught a touchdown pass from quarterback Dick Berg and Pete Middlekauff ran for another touchdown.

Last Saturday Stanford surprised previously unbeaten Oregon 10-8.

"It's getting late in the year and it's a long season," coach Jim Owens said. "We've been able to get the work accomplished in time, so we decided to cut the workout a little short," he added.

Official Raps Navigation Project

MARYSVILLE, Calif. (UPI)—A state official says a proposed 100-mile navigation channel complex on the Sacramento River would destroy an area which "is probably the world's second largest producer of King Salmon."

Director Walter T. Shannon of the California Fish and Game Department testified at a U.S. Army Corps of Engineers hearing yesterday on a proposal to build 14 navigation dams, locks, and forebays and a dredged channel upstream as far as Red Bluff.

"We believe a substantial portion of the salmon, steelhead, shad and striped bass fisheries would be destroyed by the proposed navigation projects," he said. He added "mitigation measures . . . for these losses would probably be prohibitive in cost."

Shannon, who at the same time opposed similar projects on the Feather and American Rivers, described the stretch of Sacramento River that would be affected as the source of 35 per cent of California's striped bass and the origin of over 20,500 steelhead.

A proposed 28 mile long Feather River commercial navigation channel would "jeopardize the future of California's largest American shad run and . . . plans for park sites along the lower Feather River," he said.

And a proposed five mile long navigation channel on the American River "could be damaging . . . if spoil disposal areas are not carefully selected and if dredging is excessive," he said.

Shannon added that if only a single channel were dug in the center of the present stream "we anticipate an increase in boating access with perhaps only slight damage to warm water fish habitat."

Cal Bears Lose Defensive Tackle

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Starting defensive tackle Roger Foster will miss at least California's Saturday game against the Washington Huskies, and may eventually need surgery.

Pockets Are Unchanging Bore But Not Pocketbook

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

NEW YORK (AP)—A menswear designer here once tried hard to sell has sex on the idea of carrying a pocketbook. Although his creations were squarish and virile-looking in grained leathers with a manly aroma, he go nowhere with the masculine gender.

Because woman thought of handbags first, man apparently would rather fight then switch to these. Yet he is covetous, though he may disguise this trait by poking fun at the female tendency to agglomerate.

Stubbornly, he goes on paying through his wallet for perfectly fitted suits and then has them lumpy and sagging in no time by jamming that wallet, as well as credit cards, little black books, important memos, and handkerchiefs into pockets here, there and everywhere.

Well let him. We women may fill handbags too full, and forget one now and then. But we always have with us what we want when we want it, even though to get at it we must shuffle the contents of our capacious carryalls. Still we need not spoil the line of our costumes by stuffing their pockets.

Further, carrying a purse gives us something to do with our hands, especially if we've just given up smoking and can't do a thing with them.

A handbag is handier than a pants pocket for hiding a secret defense weapon. Ask any detective story writer.

Moreover, leaving one in the car of a new and interesting male acquaintance is a marvelous ruse to get him to turn up again at the lady's threshold.

When she leaves her bag, a man can be sure she has a good case on him. Handbags are too handsome, too important to her accessory wardrobe to risk for anything but a very good cause.

Surely, there is more variety in ladies' handbags than in trouser and coat pockets and variety is the spice of fashion.

Especially this season, when ladies' pants suits are as popular as skirt suits, there is now a need for a full wardrobe of suitable handbags.

This season, when leather is a status material in all fashion, leather handbags have been designed to be coordinated with leather hats, as well as leather shoes, leather coats and leather dresses, ad infinitum.

Pockets are an unchanging bore. But not pocketbooks.

Accent Not An Actress' Best Friend

By VIVIAN BROWN

People think a delightful European accent is profitable for an actress in the theatre, but they're wrong, says well-known character actress, Lilia Skala, a grandmother.

For Lilia, a refugee from Austria, it has been a long time between theater jobs in the 25 years she has been in the United States. She has worked at just about everything to keep herself going.

TRUE, HER ROLE AS A NUN in the Academy Award-winning "Lilies of the Field" brought her a nomination for the award too. But roles like that are hard to come by, she says, because "it is much easier to give an American actress an accent than to hire an actress with a real accent."

"American producers shy away from using foreign-born people because there are areas of the country where foreign accents have become Americanized with a particular type of inflection, so they'd rather have American actresses speak that way."

An actress can get along with a British accent, she says. It is pretty much the same wherever it is spoken. If she is a romantic French type, she could do fine. But few stories are written requiring actresses like Lilia with Austrian accents.

LILIA SKALA

LILIA BECAME AN ACTRESS in Austria after the birth of her first child. Before that she was the first woman architectural engineer in Austria, she says. She apprenticed as a bricklayer one summer as part of her course at Dresden University and learned a membership in their guild.

She hasn't had to resort to masonry in the United States, although her Jill-of-all-trades career has continued.

SHE HAS SOLD SLIDE fasteners; worked as a store clerk, operated a machine; served as bus "boy," waitress and sold mutual funds. When she was nominated for the Academy Award she was working as a file clerk at New York's City Center Theater.

A handsome woman past the middle years, Lilia has fought hard to be an actress and has often been terribly disappointed.

For example her first stage role here was as a Swiss housekeeper in "Letters to Lucerne." But it was ill-timed. A peacetime play, it had its dress rehearsal on the day of Pearl Harbor. Things went on that way.

BUT FINALLY "LILIES of the Field" came along. Her most recent role is that of a nun, this time a gentle one, in "Ship of Fools."

"You expose yourself to many humiliations when pursuing the career of an actress, but you can preserve your dignity," she advises young people. "You must know that you are the greatest talent that ever was because, if you don't believe in yourself, who will?

Rabbi To Review New Novel

In observance of Jewish Book Month the Sisterhood of Kol Shofar will have a public program featuring Rabbi Saul White of Congregation Beth Shalom in San Francisco on Monday at the Marin Jewish Community Center in San Rafael.

Rabbi White will review the new novel "Herzog," by Saul Bellow for the program which will begin at 8 p.m.

Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Jerry Sher and Mrs. Al Shilling. Mrs. Morris Kishner is on the committee for the evening. Refreshments will be served after the program.

ELEGANTLY UNDERSTATED

Reflected glory will be all yours in this metallic knit theater suit by Koret of California. The double V-neck jacket is elegantly understated allowing the fabulous knit of acetate, metallic and nylon shimmer in its own seductive way. Sparkle in gold, aqua, or apple green or play the vamp in dramatic black.

PI BETA PHI ALUMNAE TEA SET IN MT. TIBURON HOME

The Marin Pi Beta Phi Alumnae will hold its Settlement School tea on Nov. 12 from 2 to 4:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Irving Moulin at 80 Mt. Tiburon, Tiburon.

The Settlement School tea is an event which features a display and sale of handcrafted articles from the Pi Phi Settlement School in the Smoky Mountain region of Tennessee. Members of Pi Beta Phi help support the school by selling articles.

Mesdames John Anton and John Buresh are co-chairmen for the evening. Assisting will be Mesdames Daniel Anderson, Dean Brokaw, Howard Council, Francis Fogarty, E. Mack Miller, Henry Orrick, Perry Ratcliff, Marilyn Stuart, T. E. Welsh, James Wilbee and James Zogg.

Raccoon Branch To Hold Associate Member Tea

The third annual associate member tea will be given by the Raccoon Branch of the Marin General Hospital Volunteers on Nov. 13, at the home of Mrs. Robert W. Morrison of Belvedere, president of the Branch, announced.

Co-chairmen of the tea are Mrs. K. L. Rice Jr. of Tiburon and Mrs. Stanley T. Peterson of Tiburon.

Greeting guests, along with Mrs. Steen, will be Mrs. Burton Stitt of Belvedere, past president.

Other members of the committee are Mesdames Thomas Corn, Belvedere, acknowledgements; Harvey Rogers, Belvedere, and Melvin B. Tyler, Belvedere, refreshments; Donald C. Mitchell, Tiburon, special events; Thomas Behrens, Tiburon, service, and Henry Sanderson, Tiburon, decorations. Mrs. Thomas Drohan, Tiburon, is accepting reservations chairman.

Guests will be Mrs. Roy A. Ibach of the Marin Hospital District board of directors; Mrs. Robert McKendry, chairman of the Volunteer Council, and Mrs. John O'Connell and Mrs. James Dorais of the volunteer program.

Pouring will be Mesdames Fred Drexler, Mill Valley; L. R. Clason, Greenbrae; John Hoefer, Belvedere; Ralph Noah, Belvedere; William Pemberton, Mill Valley; George Stephens, Tiburon, and W. R. Vizzard, Ross.

Goes To The Prom

Bill Atkinson, designer of Glen of Michigan togs, sends corduroy to the prom in a long, hooded evening wrap whose swirling fullness falls from a high, gathered back yoke. Zip off the deep hem of this versatile night-into-day model and, presto, it converts to a street-length coat.

Clock Theme For Bethel Style Show

"Around the Clock in Fashion" will be the theme of the fashion show presented by Bethel 48 of Job's Daughters on Saturday, at 1 p.m. The Masonic Temple in San Rafael, where the show will be held, is being decorated with clocks of all different kinds, by Carey Phillips and her committee.

The models, under the supervision of junior princess Ginny Tabor, will wear school and sport outfits as well as date and party dresses. Modeling in Saturday's show will be Ginny Tabor, Michele Leisure, Roxane Greenslade, Rosane Greenslade, Verna Easom, Senior Princess Sue McInnis, Ellen Ostern, Mara Lee Guthrie, Lorraine Wardlaw, and Cathy DelPino. Honored queen Betsey Denison will narrate.

Others who are working hard as committee chairmen for this show are Cathy DelPino, tickets; Jeanie Douglas, publicity, and Ellen Ostern, refreshments.

Asianos Entertain Members Of Opera

By MOLLY MARIN

The Leonard Asianos entertained members of the San Francisco Opera Company in their Scott Valley home on Sunday evening honoring the birthday of Franco Tagliavini. Mr. Tagliavini appeared in "Nabucco" and "Turnandot" in San Francisco.

Among the guests were Alberto Leone, assistant conductor in Rome, Walter Ferrari, director of the San Carlo Opera in Naples, Rait Salvatore of San Francisco, Mesdames and Mssrs. Joseph Asiano of Kentfield and Angelo Colbasso.

Mr. and Mrs. Archer Forsyth, who left Mill Valley on Oct. 7, for a four-month around-the-world tour, celebrated their 16th wedding anniversary aboard the Arcadia at sea passing the Bahamas. Present at the party by an unusual coincident was Mill Valley's "Septuagenarian Vagabond," Roberta Winans, who was starting an around-the-world tour with emphasis on the new African countries.

A BRIDAL shower was given last night to honor Paula Houser, who will become the bride of Stephen Hamon on Nov. 28 at St. Anselm's Church in Ross. Hostess for the gathering, attended by close friends of the bride, was Mrs. Lawrence Glynn at her home in San Anselmo. Also attending were the mother of the bride-elect, Mrs. Robert Houser of Fairfax, and Stephen's mother, Mrs. Philip Hamon of San Anselmo, as well as his grandmother, Mrs. Philip Hamon Sr., and his sister, Mrs. Jim Johnson, also of San Anselmo.

Jean Houston, a junior and Joan Houston, a freshman at the College of Idaho, both have pledged Ring sorority on the campus. They are the daughters of Dr. and Mrs. Robert J. Houston of San Rafael.

SEVERAL Marinites were guests of the commander of the 28th Air Division, Maj. Gen. and Mrs. C. F. Necrason of Hamilton Air Force Base to attend a buffet dinner at the Presidio Officer's Club in San Francisco to meet the staff and delegates of the International Defense Board last night.

Among Marinites invited were the Charles P. Davies and the J. E. Countrymans of Indian Valley Ranch, Novato, Judge and Mrs. Carlos Freitas, Mr. and Mrs. Fred F. Enemark and Mayor and Mrs. John F. McInnis of San Rafael.

ROLL BACK THE YEARS

"Memories of '54" is the theme of the Marin Catholic High School Class of 1954 reunion being planned by, from left, Mrs. Robert Bjorn (Donna Giovanni), John R. Kunst, Mrs. Michael Dunleavy (Marie Jenkins) and George Oliva. The party will be held Nov. 14 at the Elks Club in San Rafael with a cocktail hour at 6:30 p.m. followed by dinner and dancing. Assisting with arrangements are Mrs. Bernard Pola and John Kunst, reservations.

Solving Conflicts Aids Weight Loss

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — Double chins, spare tires and other unsightly blubber padding the fat of the land add up to a badge of discouragement over failures in love, job, family or other facets of life.

Dr. Irving B. Perlstein, a Louisville, Ky., internist and expert in weight reduction, maintains that resolving such conflicts or learning to live with them contributes tremendously to the difference between success and failure in reducing programs.

More than 85 per cent of the patients he has helped to reduce during the last 15 years have maintained their weight loss of 30 or more pounds.

HIS INSTRUCTION to patients is a mixture of calorie control, exercise — plus chats helping them to master the conflicts that have led to the use of food as a sedative in disappointing situations.

Dr. Perlstein with author William Cole has put down his formula in the book—"Diet is Not Enough."

"Obesity, as such, is not a disease," he said in an interview. "Rather, it is a symptom of underlying problems. The doctor must explore both the physiological and psychological in any reducing program that works."

Dr. Perlstein explained that success is measured in terms of keeping the weight off—not by sudden losses and sudden gains so often characteristic of crash programs.

AN INTEGRAL PART of the expert's program: regular visits to the doctor—weekly at first, then every other week, then monthly, then every other month.

"If there is to be success in the battle against obesity nationwide," he said, "the doctors must take over the reducing problem from the reducing salons, the faddists and the peddlers of easy ways to get thin.

"There are no easy ways or short-cuts. It takes discipline."

Dr. Perlstein said doctors have been bullied into supporting some crash programs, bullied by their patients into prescribing pills and pills alone to help them get thin fast.

"Most often," he said, "this doesn't work. The weight goes down and then it goes right back up again."

DR. PERLSTEIN said doctors have the time to talk regularly with the patients they aim to help in the battle against the bulge.

"My patients get the support they need from me in a 10-minute office visit as a rule," he said. "That's no longer than the typical office visit."

TO THE INTERNIST, a new person emerges as the fat comes off and stays off.

"They change from living vegetables that merely exist to persons with starch in the spine and the courage to crawl out from under the failures that life has piled on them, he said.

"Frequently, the success in reducing gives them the first indication of success in a long time. Then other successes follow. I've had artists who paint better once the fat comes off. The same for persons in many lines of work. Production goes up."

But, say the overweight persons, "I'm trying to reduce."

"That's no way to reduce," Dr. Perlstein said. "People who say that automatically allow room for failure. I tell my patients to stop trying and be a do-er—starting at once to make the weight come off.

"IF SOMEONE throws you in the middle of a river you don't just try to get to shore. You either get there or drown. It's the same with reducing programs. It requires a maximum effort if there is to be success."

In asking his patients for the maximum effort in attacking the weight problem, Dr. Perlstein also tells them:

"You can put a two ton load on a one ton truck and the truck will carry it a while."

How To Tell Fake From An Antique

NEW YORK (UPI) — Do you know how to tell a fake "antique" from the genuine article?

"Many people don't and so they're apt to be taken by unscrupulous dealers," says Emil Faust.

Faust heads Arabesque, a firm which makes wall accessories, many of them adaptations of antiques.

"In many cases, a good reproduction may look better, last longer and cost less than an antique," he said.

But if your heart is set on owning an original, here are some tips:

Dont expect to stumble onto an antique find in an attic or barn. Most antiques are already known and their value computed to the penny.

Check backs and undersides carefully. On antique furniture the surfaces that don't show usually are rough and unfinished.

Joints on antiques are imperfect and irregular.

Tennis Club Will Have A Luncheon

Women of the Mill Valley Tennis Club will have a luncheon on Tuesday at noon at Sabella's Restaurant. Highlight of the meeting will be the choosing of a nominating committee to select the officers who will be announced at the first meeting of the women's group to be held in December in the new clubhouse.

Hostesses for Tuesday's meeting will be Mrs. Samuel Farber, chairman of women's activities for the club, and Mrs. Robert Saxton.

Not Dignified

Women in slacks and men in sweaters are an indignity to other diners who dress for the occasion when dining out says Beverly Hills designer Ron Postal. "Being able to pay the check is no excuse for this display of bad taste," he maintains.

Women's Club To Hear Talk By Designer

Hilda Korner of Marin County Artists and Potters will present the program for Wednesday's meeting of the Mount Carmel Women's Club.

It will open at 8 p.m. in the lower hall of Our Lady of Mount Carmel School with the rosary led by spiritual chairman Mrs. Harry Morgan.

A graduate of the New York School of Interior Design, Hilda Korner had 10 years' experience in fashion home furnishing and advertising with Gimbel's in New York and is well known in Marin.

After her introduction by program chairman Mrs. Kenneth Wittman, Miss Korner will talk on and demonstrate the use of fabrics and other elements in the art of decorating the home.

Mrs. George Pavlisin, who heads the club's visiting program, will report on the recent conference she attended at the University of San Francisco that was presented on the archdiocese catholic charities program for the aging.

Mrs. Patrick Roche will report on two recent meetings held in connection with "Meals for Millions."

Typical 'Quick' Foods Tabulated

NEW YORK (UPI)—Frozen vegetables, canned soup and instant coffee rank first, second and third, respectively, in research to determine what consumers regard as the most typical convenience foods.

A dozen other product types, listed in order of importance, were: frozen fruit juices, packaged cake mixes, canned vegetables, packaged cereal, frozen dinners, canned juices, canned fruit, frozen seafood, packaged rolls, canned beans, dry soup and canned tuna fish.

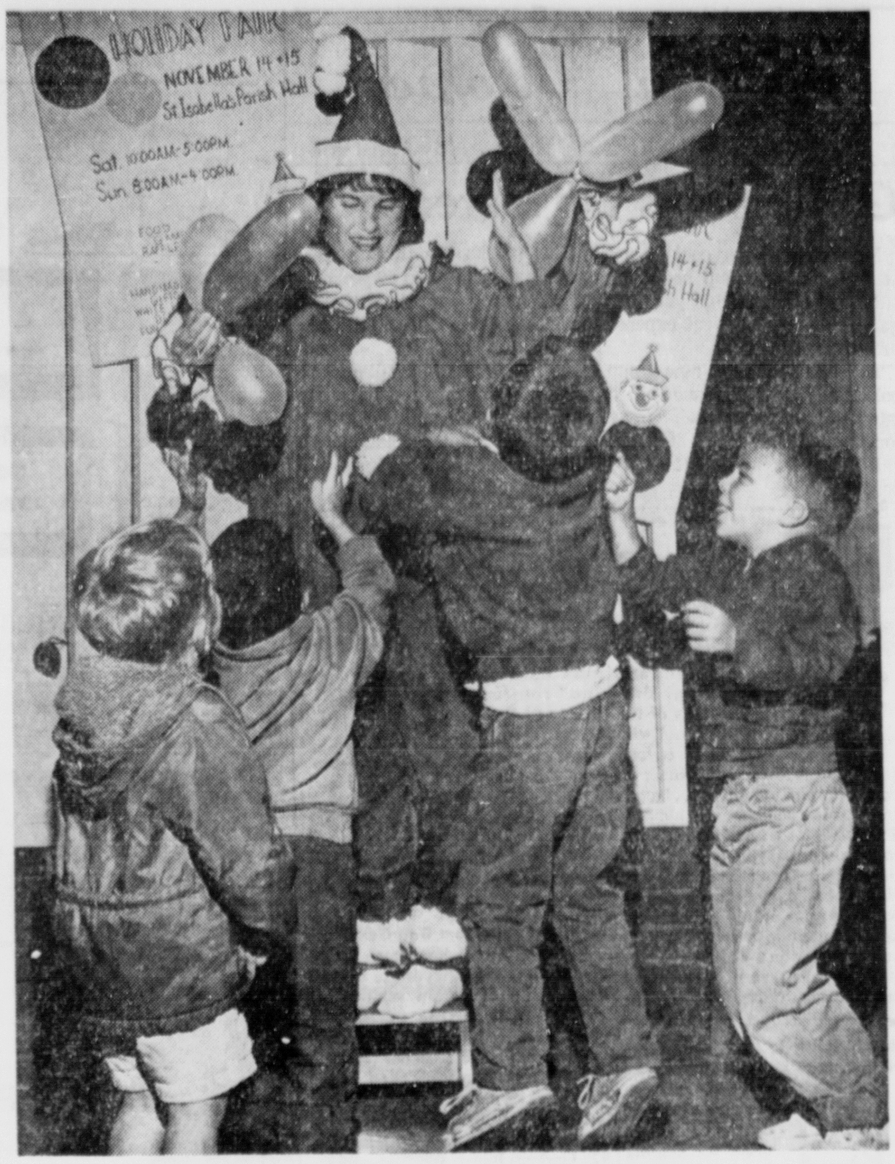

The research was preliminary to a study of convenience food usage, made by Drexel Institute of Technology's College of Home Economics under a grant from a soup canner. The study was made to determine the contribution of 30 popular convenience foods and their homemade counterparts in terms of cost and preparation time.

Researchers found that seven typical meals using convenience foods took one-quarter of the time to prepare as their homemade versions.

The average convenience food meal in the study cost 23 cents more than a home prepared meal of the same foods.

List Aids Budget

Use a shopping list when doing your food shopping, experts in consumer economics advise. Impulse buying can wreck the food budget.

COME TO THE FAIR

Mrs. Bernard Bagshaw has all the children excited over the Holiday Fair to be held on Nov. 14 and 15 at St. Isabella's parish hall in Terra Linda. The fair will feature 15 booths, and a puppet show will be an added attraction. The event will be held from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, and from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Sunday.

WITH TEEN GOODWILL

Marin teen-agers will collect clothing and small appliances for Goodwill Industries all day on Saturday in the county, and getting a head start are Beth Houston of Mill Valley for Tamalpais High School; and Reggie Ruggiero of Kentfield, Marin Catholic High School. Others from Marin schools are Liz Duff of San Anselmo, Sir Francis Drake High School; Judy Beebe of Novato, Novato High School; Charlotte Clark of San Rafael, San Rafael High School, and Marilee Jenkinson of Kentfield, Redwood High School. Goodwill Industries plans to add teen-agers to its handicapped workers receiving training at the sheltered workshop in San Francisco.

Group Plans On Increase

More than 65 per cent of persons acquiring group health insurance coverage this year are gaining major medical expense protection.

The 1964 survey of new group policies shows continued high interest in coverages which pay for virtually all types of medical treatment in or out of the hospital.

This marks the fifth straight year that more than 60 per cent of new group coverages written have contained major medical provisions.

An estimated 147 million persons now are covered by group or individual health insurance plans in the United States. Nearly 30 per cent of them have major medical coverage.

Bringing Up Baby®

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Copycatting and clowning! Two great traits of the toddler. And who can resist cavorting with a toddler . . . dreaming up antics for him to imitate . . . laughing at antics he dreams up himself. But it isn't so funny when your image imitates you and keeps it up . . . repeats a cute trick because it provoked a laugh the first time. Sensible rules on this subject: try not to entertain your baby with antics that won't wear well. Try to discourage (sweetly) too many mischievous pranks.

Handy helpers. Do-it-yourselfers need plenty of practice to perfect self-feeding. Gerber Meat Sticks are made to order for helping hand - to - mouth co-ordination. Nutritious and tasty, too. Made from lean cuts of pork and beef selected by Armour, they're high in protein, low in fat and mildly seasoned to suit the semi-grown-up tastes of toddlers. Equally nutritious and delicious: Gerber Chicken Sticks.

Attention - getter. Trickster toddlers often try the dawdling or "no" routine at mealtime to attract attention. But it's best to ignore these tactics. Thing to do is remove the food, without comment, after a reasonable length of time. He'll soon learn that playing with food will net him naught.

Nutrition note from Dan Gerber. "One of the most important jobs of our Research Staff is the evaluation of the vitamin values of various foods. One of these evaluations was to determine the amount of vitamin B_6 in our foods. (That's a vitamin needed for healthy skin, a sound nervous system and the utilization of fats and protein.) To date, 92 Gerber Baby Foods have been tested for this important vitamin. And these tests demonstrate the widespread occurrence of vitamin B_6 in Gerber Baby Foods."

Point to remember: When you buy Gerber, you're sure of your money's worth in nourishment. Gerber® Baby Foods, Box 72, Fremont, Michigan.

Hydrofoil Tests On Bay Good News For Marin

The announcement that hydrofoils will be tested this year on San Francisco Bay comes as good news.

Testing of any and all means of transportation, whether or not it is ultimately successful, will contribute to the solution of our transportation problems.

As Marin highways continue to choke with increasing traffic congestion, hydrofoils, mono-rails, ferries, trains and buses have been mentioned as possible solutions.

The passage of the Marin Transit District sets the stage for a study of Marin's transportation needs. The initial goal will be an improved bus system similar to those of the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit System.

In the meantime, hydrofoils introduced by private promoters will test the economic feasibility of one mode of travel. Henry E. Carter Corp. and Management Capital Marketing Corp. foresee a network of hydrofoil routes, with a fleet of speedy craft swimming the bay at speeds of 30 to 50 miles per hour.

Apparently hydrofoil transportation has been tried successfully in Europe and in Asia and even off Manhattan. Rough water, debris and fog have not been serious obstacles to the operation, acccrding to the hydrofoil promoters.

It is good to see private companies with the enterprise and the daring to try new and imaginative methods of transportation on San Francisco Bay.

Until the new craft is tested and tried, we don't really know whether they are economically feasible. We wish the hydrofoil promoters every success.

But even if the new venture proves impractical, it will have "cleared the air" for overall solution of the bay transportation problem. If one method is unsuccessful, other methods will be tried.

Through this process of trial and error, and with experience gained from the successes and failures, must come an eventual solution to Marin's transportation problem.

The Fragrance Of The Good Earth

With the arrival of the first rains each autumn, the parched grasses and foliage release their latent perfumes. But the most delicious fragrance of them all is the rich loamy smell of fertile Mother Earth.

Yes, the wet eucalyptus is particularly pungent and the bays give off a distinctive aroma. But the most potent perfume is that of good Mother Earth preparing herself for the work of winter which brings forth the green bounty of spring.

NEW HORIZONS FOR MEN 65 AND OVER

Hiring men over 65 as toll collectors has worked so well for the Garden State Parkway in New Jersey that the program is being expanded.

Several years ago, State highway authorities sought to help older men supplement their social security benefits and at the same time find responsible employees.

A start was made by employing a dozen men over the usual retirement age. The project was so successful that the State set about to find 50 more. They normally work from four to six hours a day during peak traffic periods and earn up to $2,300 a year.

A humane consideration for the needs of elder citizens is an enlightened and important work.

Anything you can do to show respect, encouragement and to provide useful employment for others, young or old, will be richly rewarded by Him Who is the Father of us all.

Whatever you are able to accomplish may have far-reaching effects for good.

"Now that I am old and gray, O God, forsake me not." (Psalm 70:18)

Spur me, O Holy Spirit, to help older persons make their rightful contribution to the good of all.

There Appears To Be Danger In Plan For State Initiatives

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The revision of California's constitution is a lengthy process. After nine months of work, the constitutional revision commission is about ready to make its first progress report to the State Legislature. It has slated tomorrow as the date for such submission.

John A. Busterud of San Rafael, former assemblyman from San Francisco and an astute constitutional attorney, is counsel for the commission. He expects the legislative article to be completed. Drafts of the judiciary and civil service acts are nearing completion, he says, but have not yet been acted upon by the full commission.

A MEETING OF the commission and the members of the joint legislative committee on legislative organization, composed of seven assemblymen and seven senators, is scheduled tomorrow. Busterud said it is to permit informal discussion between members of the commission and the legislative committee. Tom Bane, assemblyman from San Fernando, is chairman of the joint committee.

One of the recommendations the commission will make, Busterud said, is to "expose constitutional initiative measures to legislative debate before they are placed on the ballot, rather than by-passing the legislature as they do now."

There would appear to be some danger to the people of the state in this recommendation.

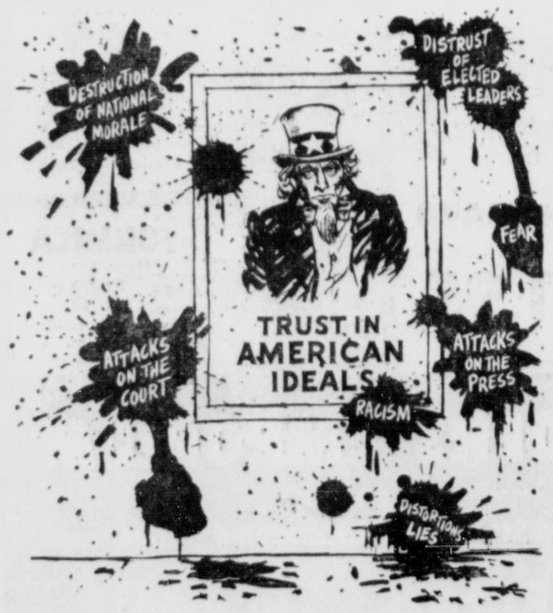

THERE MAY BE no good reason why initiatives should not be debated by the State Legislature. In such a process, all points could be brought out and receive good news coverage, leading to a better understanding of the issues involved in the initiative.

On the other hand, such a recommendation would materially slow the process of presenting initiatives to the people of the state, sometimes as much as a couple of years, for if the legislature were not in session when a petition qualified, it would have to wait for the next session to be debated.

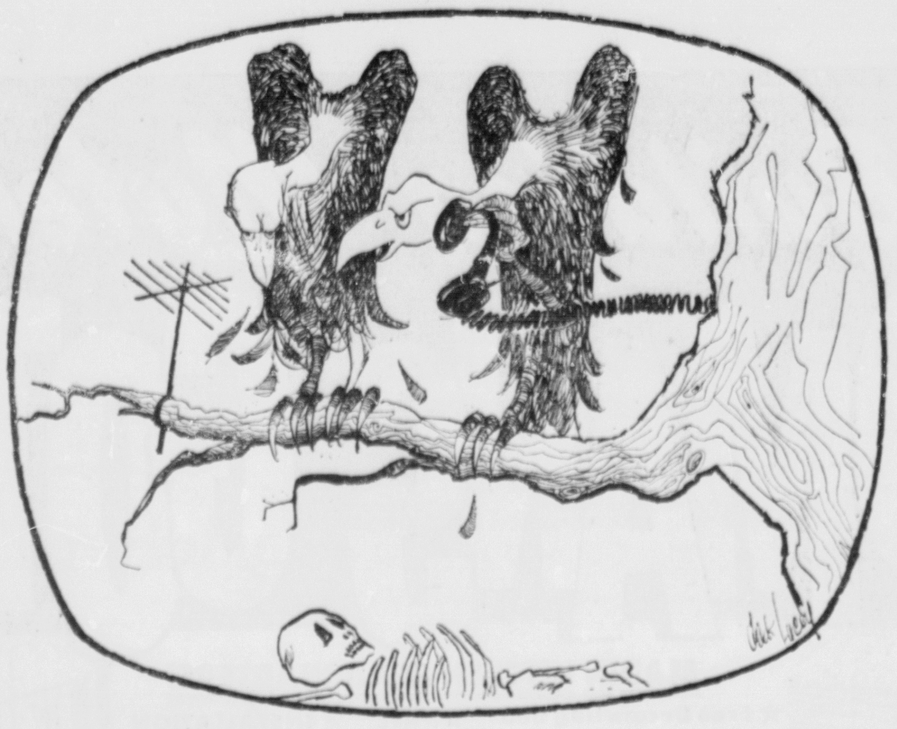

This in effect might be a good requirement on the part of some initiatives, but those that happened to be necessary at the moment, such as a vital bond issue, would be delayed materially.

BUT DELAY is not the least of the danger to the rights of the people. The real danger would be to allow the legislature the decision as to whether the initiative should or should not go on the ballot.

Police Deserve A Good Image

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Is there an explanation why in a recent article you referred to the San Rafael Police as "Keystone Cops" and then went on to describe how these same officers responded to a bank alarm ready to do their duty only to find that it was a false alarm? What would you suggest the officers do?

The only connotation that most people will receive from the term "Keystone Cops" is that the officers did something funny when in fact they were doing their duty in the finest tradition. In this present time when "Law and Order" is receiving a real test I feel that the least the news media can do is screen articles such as this so that a police department's good image is not hurt undeservedly.

Analytical View Of Vietnam Air Force

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Perhaps now that the first flush of righteous indignation has subsided, sufficient time has elapsed for a sober analytical look at our air strike at North Vietnam.

Was it consistent with Ambassador Stevenson's unqualified denunciation of "reprisal; at any time, in any place" when discussing the British strike at Aden, and (18 months before) the French strike at Tunis? Could this well-coordinated, precise, and devastating military achievement have been accomplished in the fervor of "hot pursuit," or was it more likely, a premeditated political expedient, waiting for an appropriate pretext?

Was the magnitude of the retaliation proportional to the injury? If the circumstances of the second attack actually occurred as described, is it likely that the aggressive P.T. boats would be sitting ducks at their dockage? And is it likely that not a single injury to man or ship on our side would be incurred?

We have adequately demonstrated that the privilege of over-response to "provocation" belongs to the strong who can inflict it on the weak.

In light of these actions, can we still pretend that we are helping to defend the Vietnamese from foreign domination? Even if we destroy North Vietnam with nuclear fire, will it make the South Vietnamese love us the more? Or cease from fighting to drive us and our puppets from their borders?

Though President Johnson's foreign policy is infinitely more rational than Senator Goldwater's, a blind acceptance of LBJ's Vietnam maneuvers would not be in this country's best interests.

San Rafael Should Share Its Stadium

Editor, Independent-Journal:

. . . I was fortunate enough to see the wonderful football game this past Friday between San Rafael and Terra Linda. Both teams deserve to be congratulated, especially San Rafael, who put up a whale of a fight. However, this scheduled contest was the Homecoming Game for Terra Linda, and was likewise, also Terra Linda's home game. As such, Terra Linda was entitled to occupy the "home" side of the field. . . .

Because the officials at San Rafael consider their school field as exclusively their home field, it is my understanding that they would not relinquish the "home side" to Terra Linda. . . .

This article should remind all in the San Rafael High School District that because of economy . . . the further improvement of Terra Linda's football facilities has been abandoned and . . . all further improvements of facilities within the district will be made to the field in San Rafael. . . .

The facility at San Rafael is no longer an exclusive home field for San Rafael due to the agreement of the school board. . . . If this is not the intention of the Board, then we citizens of San Rafael who have students attending Terra Linda, feel that additional expenditures should be made in Terra Linda to equalize those now existing in San Rafael—especially when Terra Linda boasts a student body far in excess of that housed in San Rafael. In the interests of economy, I go along with the permanent location in San Rafael—but I wish someone would notify the Principal and faculty in San Rafael to be less small about such things and a bit more equal.

Keep Football Games At Night

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Concerning your article last night (Reporter's Notebook column by Robert Coppock, Oct. 13) on ending night high school football games—

If it isn't one criticism of our teen-agers, it's another. They're not spirited enough! Let's cut them out! Now it's that they're TOO spirited!

For Pete's sake, everytime someone gets hurt these days, someone wants to abolish something. Why don't we do away with cars, bikes, roller skates, the Golden Gate bridge? People get hurt all the time, even killed using them.

Let's stop molly-coddling over protecting our youngsters. Believe me they don't thank us for it and it won't do any good.

What is the matter with people these days, anyway? Football was one played without half the protection there is today. I'm glad that these safety measures have been taken, but now they want to protect the fans from themselves.

Take away the night games the kids enjoy so much? Really, it's not to be borne! These complainers and do-gooders are probably the same ones who give their inexperienced 16-year-old a car and think nothing of it. As far as I'm concerned, this is the same as putting a loaded gun in his hand. However, that's another story.

Let's get off this kick! A youngster (or oldster for that matter) has more of a chance of being seriously injured right in his own home than on the football field or stands.

I attend and enjoy every minute of these high school night games—it's the only time the fathers can come, incidentally, and I think the kids enjoy having us there—interested in their endeavors.

BENNETT CERF

GARRY MOORE, emphasizing the passion with which TV fans identify with their favorites, recalls that he was resting for a moment on a park bench when a little girl about 5 years old spotted him and squealed ecstatically, "Garry! Garry!" Moore smiled and said, "Hi, honey," whereupon the little girl burst into tears and sobbed, "You don't even remember my name!"

WHEN JOHN O'Brien served a brief term as mayor of New York in the 1930s, he carried on a running feud with a city hall reporter, who kidded him continuously and unmercifully. One day a columnist asked him for an advance copy of a speech he was scheduled to deliver that evening. O'Brien, thinking he was turning over a carbon copy of the speech, handed the columnist a sheaf of blank paper by mistake. "Why, Mr. Mayor," chided the columnist, "this is the same speech you made last Tuesday."

The mayor had him barred from city hall for a month.

A BOOK SALESMAN cornered a lazy suburbanite stretched out in his hammock. "This book," maintained the salesman, "will do half your work for you." "Prove that," challenged the suburbanite, "and I'll buy two copies."

People Swing To Conservative Opinion—But Not That Much

WASHINGTON—On the surface, at least, there appears to be a massive inconsistency in American political opinion: The same polls which showed rising resistance to welfare statism showed overwhelming support for the election of President Lyndon B. Johnson.

There are several possible explanations for this paradox.

Either the people as a whole did not associate the Johnson administration with "socialism" or pervasive welfare statism or his popular support came only incidentally from domestic matters—more from foreign policy.

THERE COULD BE a third explanation. Conceivably the country could, at the same time, want less federal government and support Johnson because it does not approve of the extent to which Goldwater wished to curtail the general welfare functions of the federal government in the hope that the states somehow would take them over.

In a word, it may well be that Goldwater's plight was that he was offering too much of a choice and that the majority of the voters felt they had to say no to Goldwater's "little government" although they would like to say yes to "less government."

Sen. Barry Goldwater recently remarked: "I wish the opposition party would accept the term Socialist Party." This may be the key to the whole matter. Johnson will not accept the term Socialist and I suspect that the voters generally reject the label Socialist as either an unfair or inaccurate description of the Johnson administration.

IN LIGHT OF the many conservative businessmen who backed Johnson and the many conservative newspapers which this year left their Republican moorings, I think that the country gives a different reading to what conservatism really stands for than does Goldwater.

These people, including such Republican candidates as Robert Taft in Ohio, Gov. George Romney in Michigan, Charles Percy in Illinois, Sen. Hugh Scott in Pennsylvania, plus four-fifths of the Republican members of the House of Representatives, look upon the new civil rights law as the embodiment of responsible conservatism.

They hold that you can't secure the political rights of the majority unless you are equally faithful in securing the political rights of the minority. They hold that a concept of states' rights, espoused by Goldwater and designed to enable state and local government to perpetuate racial discrimination, is a violation of conservative principles, not an expression of them.

MOST REPUBLICAN conservatives have long supported Social Security and the other reform legislation of the New Deal. They hold that Social Security is not only humane but insures that our competitive enterprise system will survive the ups and downs of the business cycle.

Conservatives, like members of the American Bankers Assn., do not consider it a violation of conservatism to have supported this year's cut in tax rates, even before a balanced budget, since past rates grievously retarded enterprise and their reduction would — as it is doing — promote economic growth.

IT SEEMS TO ME that the essential ingredients of conservatism are these: (1) Fiscal responsibility; (2) a climate in government favorable to enterprise and growth; (3) support for human rights as well as property rights; (4) a strong foreign policy in defense of the free world; (5) a desire to arrest the flow of power to Washington without neglecting national problems which can be dealt with only on a national basis.

The Harris poll showed that most voters feel we could lose the struggle to communism abroad by going Socialist at home, but at the same time it showed that most voters feel that government "must see that no one is without food, clothing and shelter."

This means, I think, that while we are experiencing a conservative tide, the American people do not want to put conservatism in a straitjacket.

State Department Security Problem

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The State Department's "most disturbing security problem" is homosexuals among its personnel of all ranks.

Scores of sex deviates are weeded out annually, but the pressing problem of eliminating these extremely vulnerable security risks remains unsolved.

THAT IS THE starkly blunt report William J. Crockett, deputy undersecretary for administration, made at a closed-door meeting of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee. Said the veteran career official, in over-all charge of State Department security:

"Homosexuality is the most disturbing security problem in the department. From 80 to 100 sexual deviates are quietly removed from the department each year. But many still remain."

Crockett's startling testimony is part of an exhaustive study the subcommittee, headed by Sen. James Eastland (D-Miss.), has been conducting for several years of the security systems and procedures of the State Department and Central Intelligence Agency.

MORE THAN 100 witnesses have been interrogated, and upwards of 20,000 pages of testimony and documentary evidence filling 14 volumes have been accumulated. This huge mass of highly revealing information is slated to be published before the new Congress convenes in January.

The subcommittee's report and explosive findings are uneasily awaited at the White House, State Department and CIA.

They are bound to have stormy repercussions involving a number of high-placed officials. The chances are strong that some "heads may roll," and that vehement demand will be made in Congress for drastic corrective measures.

ONE OF THE most revealing documents to be published in the Senate subcommittee's voluminous report is a detailed State Department account of how the Communists use homosexuals and women to entice Americans to betray their country.

Citing specific cases, this lurid State Department paper was prepared particularly for personnel assigned to Iron Curtain countries.

The document warns flatly that the use of sex relations, especially abnormal, is a regular practice of Red secret police, and that the utmost vigilance must be exercised to avoid such entrapment.

PRESIDENT LYNDON B. Johnson apparently intends to do some tough cracking down now that the election is over.

Exactly where and on whom isn't clear. But there is no doubt this is definitely on his mind.

Talking to a group of trusted friends, the president said grimly, "After the election, there is going to be some tough investigating and cleaning up around here."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By ROBERT M. COPPOCK

Public Often Gets Much Free Time From Police Departments

A POLICE CHIEF was angry with the I-J recently, mainly because names of police officers working on a bicycle safety program were left out of a story.

"These men came out on their day off and put in an awful lot of hard work," he complained.

Such a complaint can be heard, all too often, from people who contribute time and effort to a community. It's as if recognition in the newspaper was as good as money, for the time spent. Sometimes, of course, the money would appear to be worth less than the pride at having one's name appear in the paper.

BUT SUCH a thing can become a two-edged sword. Do some people, especially the non-participants, take advantage of this fact.

The bicycle program is an example. Part of a police force's job is to prevent traffic accidents. If the bicycle safety program does, in fact, prevent accidents, then why shouldn't a police officer receive pay for the time he puts in on a bike rodeo.

As a matter of fact, large police departments do pay their men for such time, often, chalking it up to "community relations." It is the officer on the small department who finds himself taken advantage of.

PERSONS WATCHING their tax money carefully might call such an activity by policemen, during working hours a "frill," but in face, prevention may be the cheapest kind of law enforcement. The real difficulty is proving that a program really does work.

Police departments in Marin have exhibited two other countervailing trends lately. More education is expected for the police officer, but he now has to do less writing of his own.

Many policemen are going back to school, and the College of Marin is offering courses designed especially for police officers. One fond hope might be that the police reports no longer will have the misspellings, grammatical errors, and ambiguities which used to make column fillers in slick magazines.

THE OTHER change, however, is that the reports now are being put on dictaphone tape. After all, it's cheaper to pay a typist to quickly type reports, correctly, than to pay a patrolman a much higher salary to hand write or hunt and peck on a typewriter.

But, all too often, that too was done on the policeman's own time. In many departments the policeman prepared his reports after the end of his shift. It was just one more contribution to the community.

The next stage may well be to require college backgrounds of applicants for police jobs. At present, there is what amounts to an apprentice program. It is called the police reserves, and is supposedly designed for persons who want to participate in police work in their spare time, like volunteer firemen.

BUT, IN FACT, it has become a training program for future policemen. Often the local community furnishes uniforms, and the reserve officer becomes the second man in a patrol car certain nights of the week. The reserve man thus beefs up the police force, but does not receive any pay.

When he finally joins the force, he does not have to be "broken in" on the job. But it is one more case where the community is getting something for nothing.

Romance Really Speeds Up Life For A Hummingbird On The Wing

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The safest day for driving a car is Tuesday. One in five Americans killed or hurt in a traffic accident is a victim of Saturday driving. The second most dangerous day is Sunday.

SCIENCE HAS FOUND that a hummingbird beats its wings only about 55 times a second while feeding but up to 200 times a second while courting.

Ever hear of the spinster's prayer It goes like this: "Dear Lord, please answer my prayer. It's not for me, but for another. Please send a son-in-law—to my mother."

If you've got a secret, don't tell it to the federal government. Uncle Sam already has enough of his own to keep. His agencies are reported to have on file some three billion secret or restricted documents.

A third of all families in the 18-to-24 age bracket buy a car every year, but four out of five are used cars.

THE ONLY PERSON our astronauts may meet when they land on the moon may be earth's first murderer. An Italian legend holds that the biblical character Cain, as punishment for killing his brother Abel, was doomed to wander friendless forever on the moon.

Of some 175,000 taxi drivers and professional chauffeurs, more than 4,500 are women.

Can you name a U.S. first lady who wasn't born on this continent? She was Mrs. John Quincy Adams, wife of the sixth American president. Her birthplace was London — Feb. 12, 1775. As hostess, she improved the White House table by serving choice foods and rare wines.

Insurance companies say obesity threatens the longevity of 10 per cent of men between 20 and 30 years old, 20 per cent of those in their 30s, and a third of those in the 40-69 group.

FOLKLORE: According to a Chinese belief, a child who teethes early will grow up to eat his parents, but if he gets his teeth late he will support them in their old age. The Chinese also believe that one isn't mature until 40, and shouldn't speak his mind in the presence of the wise before that time.

Quickies: Farmers are almost twice as likely to get arthritis as city dwellers. Germans and Irish are the world's greatest potato eaters. Indians along the Amazon River can catch fish with their hands. Americans are now buying a million paperback books a day.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Armed Nike anti-aircraft missiles were put in place in sites throughout the Bay Area —including Marin's Forts Barry, Baker and Cronkhite.

Sausalito yachtsman William A. Pomeroy said he had discovered a treasure-laden hulk near Angel Island. Old-timers were skeptical.

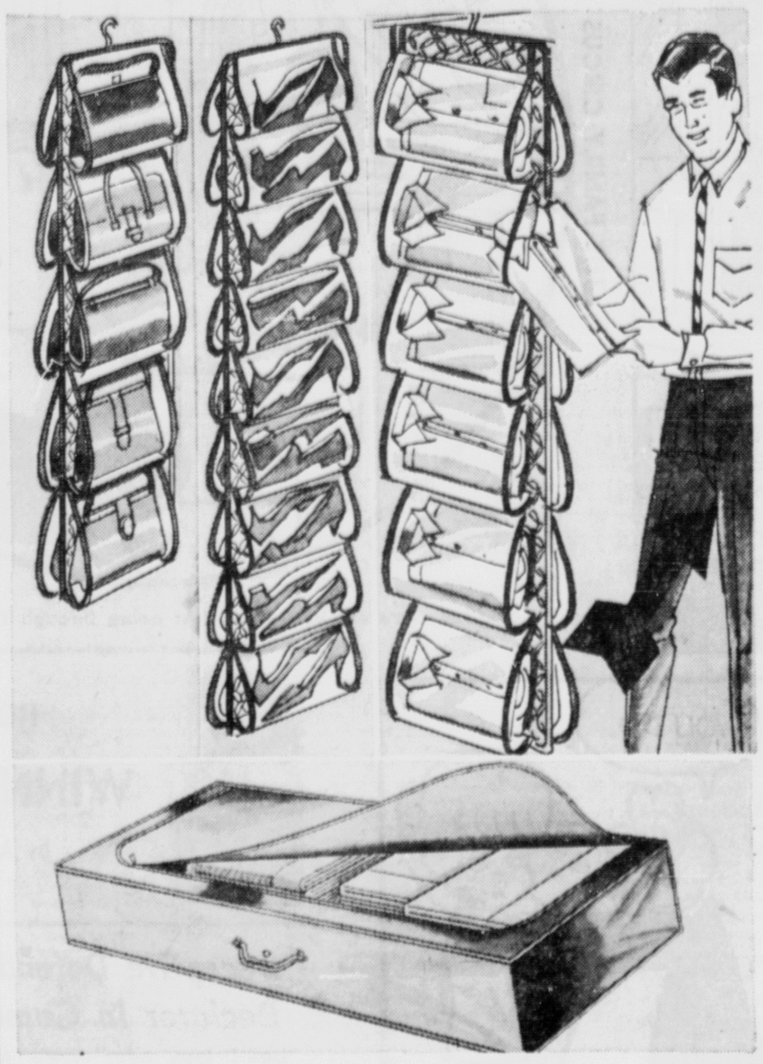

20 YEARS AGO

Volunteer Sausalito fireman A. M. Wright was lunching when a fire truck passed. Trying to jump aboard, he fell and cut his head. Picked up and taken home, he saw his house was the destination of the fire truck, as smoke was pouring from the windows. Damage, to his head and the house, was minor.

Feeling Boxed-In?
By small rooms—no views—tiny yard areas? We can cure all that with this elegant new home in Larkspur's nicest district. All the rooms are oversized and have gracious touches such as the folding doors of the closets in the 3 bedrms.—the expansive use of glass in both baths—the natural dark wood kitchen with copper tone appliances —the ceiling-high brick fireplace — and the window walls with glass clear up high in the gables. The house has 5 different view directions and the lot is large and level. Give us a call and un-box yourself for only $34,500.

NOTICE INVITING SEALED BIDS
IN THE MATTER OF THE CONSTRUCTION AND ACQUISITION OF IMPROVEMENTS AND RIGHTS-OF-WAY IN TAMALPAIS WOODS ASSESSMENT DISTRICT, TAMALPAIS VALLEY SANITARY DISTRICT, MARIN COUNTY, CALIFORNIA.

Pursuant to the provisions of the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913, and to Resolution of the Sanitary Board of the Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District directing this Notice, said Sanitary Board hereby invites sealed bids and proposals for doing the work and improvements described in Resolution of Intention No. 199 of said Sanitary Board. Said Resolution of Intention is hereby referred to for a description of said work and improvement, the grades to which it is to be done, a description of the district to be assessed to pay the costs and expenses thereof, the bonds to be issued, and for all further particulars contained in said Resolution of Intention. Reference is hereby further made to the plans and specifications and detailed drawings for said work on file in the office of the Sanitary Board of the Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District, in accordance with which said work shall be done.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Sanitary Board of the Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District has heretofore established a prevailing rate and scale of wages. Reference is hereby made to said list of prevailing wage rates which have been determined by the Sanitary Board pursuant to Section 1773 of the Labor Code, and which are on file in the office of the Secretary of the Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District, and incorporated herein by reference thereto, the same as if set forth in full herein.

The contractor shall, in the performance of the work and improvements, conform to the Labor Code of the State of California and other laws of the State of California applicable thereto, with the exception only of such variations as may be required under the special statutes pursuant to which proceedings hereunder are taken and which have not been superseded by the provisions of the Labor Code. Preference to labor shall be given only in the manner provided by law. Veterans and resident local labor shall be given preference by the contractor whenever possible, if skill and working ability permit without increasing the ultimate cost of the work and improvements to the Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District.

NOTICE IS HEREBY EXPRESSLY GIVEN that payments will be made to the contractor only in cash by said Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District from the proceeds of any assessments which are paid in cash or from the proceeds of the sale of any bonds which are to be issued on the unpaid assessments. Said payments will be made to the contractor based upon the provisions in said specifications for final payments, based upon the quality of labor and materials furnished by said contractor. Commencing sixty (60) days after the commencement of the work and within the first five (5) days of each calendar month during the construction period thereafter, the contractor shall submit to the Engineer an itemized bill of the quantity and value of the materials accepted and work performed prior to the end of the preceding month, and the Engineer will, within a reasonable time, check such bill, make his estimate of the value of the same in accordance with the terms of the contract, and ninety per cent (90%) thereof shall be paid to said contractor on or before the 15th day of each calendar month; the remaining ten per cent (10%) of the amount due the contractor shall be paid thirty-five (35) days after completion of all of said work and improvement and acceptance thereof by the Sanitary Board of the Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District.

All proposals or bids shall be accompanied by cash, cashier's check, or certified check payable to said Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District for an amount which shall not be less than ten per cent (10%) of the aggregate of the proposal, or by a bond for said amount and so payable, signed by the bidder and two sureties who shall justify, before any officer competent to administer an oath, in double the said amount, and over and above all statutory exemptions, or by a corporate surety bond in said amount satisfactory to the Engineer.

The time fixed for receiving sealed bids or proposals for the doing of said work and improvement herein ordered is the 24th day of November, 1964, at the hour of 8:00 o'clock P.M. of said day, at the office of the Secretary of Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District, located at 309 Poplar, Mill Valley, California, which said time and place are hereby fixed as the time and place of a public meeting, at which said public meeting said bids will be publicly opened, examined and declared by the Secretary of Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District. Said bids, after being publicly opened, examined and declared, will be calculated by the Engineer of Work, Edward B. Beattie, his report returned to the Sanitary Board, and the report of the results of the bidding and the calculations of the Engineer of Work will be reported to the Sanitary Board of the Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District at the next meeting thereof. The Sanitary Board of the Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District reserves the right to reject any and all proposals or bids, should it deem this necessary for the public good, and also the bid of any bidder who has been delinquent or unfaithful in any former contract with the Sanitary Board.

Plans and specifications may be obtained at the office of the Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District, 309 Poplar, Mill Valley, California, upon a deposit therefor of $25.00, $15.00 of which will be refundable upon return of the plans within five (5) days of the bid opening.

DATED: October 27, 1964

Latin America Press Battles For Freedom

By DANIEL JAMES Advance News Service

MEXICO CITY -- A persistent battle has been going on in Latin America for 20 years to maintain and extend the cherished ideal of press freedom. It is a pleasure to report the battle is being won in spite of revolutions, military coups, and innumerable attempts at censorship.

The battle is being won thanks largely to a hardy group called the Inter-American Press Assn., which recently concluded its 20th-anniversary meeting here in Mexico.

A distinguished roster of men forms the leadership of IAPA and insures that it will continue the fight.

The new president of IAPA is a former prime minister of Peru, Pedro Beltran, who owns and runs the distinguished Lima newspaper La Prensa. In his acceptance speech, Beltran said most of IAPA's time is "no longer focused only upon problem No. 1, fighting dictatorships." Today all but a small handful of Latin countries enjoy press freedom.

"Enemy No. 1" of the free press was, of course, Fidel Castro. A report by the IAPA's freedom of the press committee noted about Cuba:

"The destruction of freedom of the press is so complete . . . that it is superfluous to present a detailed report on the situation existing there."

Bolivia, Haiti, Honduras and Paraguay were also cited by the committee as having no press freedom. Bolivia is, nominally at least, a democracy — unlike the others.

In Bolivia, the committee reported, "conditions have worsened in the last year" with respect to freedom of the press. La Razon, a major daily in the capital of La Paz, was suppressed by the government of ousted President Victor Paz Estenssoro on April 9, 1952.

In Cochabamba, another important Bolivian city, Los Tiempos has been closed since November, 1953, when a mob led by a member of the government attacked it. During the past few months of violence and tension in Bolivia the president has maintained a strict press censorship.

With regard to Haiti, ruled by the voodoo-terrorist regime of Francois Duvalier, the IAPA press-freedom committee simply noted: "There is no freedom of the press."

Honduras lost its press freedom last year when a military coup overthrew its democratic regime.

Paraguay, under the dictatorship of Gen. Alfredo Sroessner for about 10 years, has not known real press freedom in all that time.

Surprisingly, in Nicaragua, still controlled by the Somoza dynasty, the committe reported that there is freedom of the press. That is, in part, a victory for the IAPA, which has fought the Somozas persistently on that issue.

In Guatemala, too, despite the existence of a military regime, the committee could report success in getting press censorship lifted. One IAPA member from Guatemala, Roberto Alejos of La Hora, contended that newspapers continue to be persecuted by the regime and there is no real press freedom in his country.

It was stressed at the anniversary meeting that, although only five independent nations have no press freedom, in the remaining 18 the fight continues against various efforts to restrict that freedom.

In Argentina, for example, a tax on importing newsprint and other commodities essential to newspapers threatens press freedom and is being opposed.

In Brazil and Mexico newsprint monopolies are considered a threat to the free press.

In Chile, a bill pends in congress that would enable trade unions to control newspaper sales.

In Trinidad-Tobago, the press "is constantly a target of official criticism" and is hampered accordingly.

As might be expected, possessions formerly or still in British hands enjoy complete press freedom. That applies even to British Guiana, governed by Marxist Premier Cheddi Jagan, but still under London's control.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Treatment Of Varicose Veins Important After Discoloration

VAN DELLEN

Varicose veins should be treated because they are not functioning properly and are likely to cause swelling, discoloration of the skin, and ulceration of the involved leg. The blood in these enlarged, tortuous vessels flows down instead of up. When nothing is done, the condition usually becomes progressively worse.

There is no need to rush to a physician at the first sign of a prominent vein. Mild varicosities can be babied along by avoiding long periods of standing. A clerk at a counter, for example, should move about at frequent intervals because muscular contractions have a pumping action on the venous flow. It is advisable to sit with the legs elevated several times a day and to sleep with the foot of the bed resting on six-inch blocks.

A SUPPORTIVE elastic bandage or stocking helps by collapsing the surface veins, which forces blood into the deeper veins. These supports should reach from the toes to just below and knee and they must fit. Use garter belts to hold up the hose, rather than round garters. The overweight ought to reduce.

Permanent results are obtained by means of surgery. An incision is made in the groin and the varicose veins are ligated and cut. Another incision is made near the knee and/or ankle. A wire-like device is threaded into the vein from below and fastened to the cut end in the groin. It then is withdrawn, pulling the vein inside out along with it (stripping). This is done until all the varices are removed.

THE SMALL remaining stragglers can be obliterated by injecting a sclesoring solution. The injection treatment was a recognized remedy for varicose veins 20 years ago. It seldom is done today because it does not provide permanent relief, except in isolated instances.

Pregnancy creates a special problem. Dilated veins are first noticed at this time in some. In others, pregnancy aggravates the condititon. At any rate, surgery usually is not advisable at this time. A conservative approach, with the use of elastic supports, is better until later, when operation can be done, if needed.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

HAIR AND STRENGTH

E. M. writes: Is it true that shaving the legs weakens them?

REPLY

No. The old story about Samson was not meant to imply that the loss of hair would produce weakness in others. After all, he was able to push two pillars apart after Delilah did him wrong.

SALT AND ARTERIOSCLEROSIS

Mr. M. M. writes: What are the benefits, if any, of a non-salt diet in hardening of the arteries?

REPLY

Unless your blood pressure is high, there is no need to omit salt from the diet. It has no effect upon hardening of the arteries.

ENORMOUS NEWBORN

W. A. writes: Can a baby who weighed 16 pounds when born be considered healthy?

REPLY

Yes, and if true, this is a record birth weight. According to Guttmacher, no child weighing more than 15 and one-half pounds has been born alive.

CORTISONE AND CATARACT

J. C. C. writes: Could cortisone (given for arthritis) cause cataract?

REPLY

No, but persons in the age bracket at which cataracts usually develop may blame the hormone.

Tranquilizer Woes Worry Psychiatrist

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI)—Any psychiatrist can distinguish between two kinds of depression, said Dr. Joost A. M. Meerloo, a psychiatric theoretician, in taking a stand against applying misleading names to psychiatric drugs.

He was objecting to calling one group of chemically related drugs, "antidepressants," and another group, "tranquilizer,." They have been intensely touted to physicians by those names and it is said that it is not better realized that those are euphemistic names, he said.

Even sadder is that one kind of depression has a national cure which comes about more or less automatically, in his expert opinion, and the drugs set up a chemical block against the cure in the diencephalon region of the brain.

This depression is the "Reactive" kind; it "results from an outside stimulus, such as material deprivation, a lost love or frustrated ideal." In this kind "a good cry, grief and depression are self-healing mechanism." When drugs prevent this self-healing from coming into play, they can push a reactively depressed person into the worst kind.

That is the "endogenous" kind. It results from "a host of inner processes." Compulsive masochistic habits have been formed, and there has been a long and lasting decay of the normal physical and psychological defenses. The chemical processes of the diencephalon have been conditioned which gives the depression an organic basis.

You can see these "organic characteristics in muscle tension, heightened perspiration, a general inhibition, lack of sleep and vegetative Parkinson-like (tremors) symptoms," he continued. Drugs can help "endogenous" depressions in many instances.

But when drugs block the natural cure of "reactive" depressions by preventing grieving, they slowly give them the same organic basis the "endogenous" kind have, he argued in the technical journal of the American Psychiatric Assn.

"In daily practice we observe so often that the opposite result is obtained from what is claimed in a medical article or pharmaceutical advertisement," he said. "Not only do several patients become more inhibited and more anxious but we also see that the chemical tranquilization transforms the natural relieving weeping and mourning reaction into a rigid, fixed state of inner confusion."

He specified the case of a 30-year-old woman suddenly widowed. Her physician-brother helped her to check her grief — with drugs. She got "hourly medication with various tranquilizers, psychic energizers and other more sedative drugs.

"Suddenly one night she became agitated and delirious and I was called in to help decide whether institutionalization or electrical shock treatment was needed. I talked with her for a long time, letting her sob and cry as she wished.

"Instead of tranquilizers I gave her lots of coffee and in a couple of hours the so-called 'hsychosis' fell away from her completely."

Marine Biology Unit Report Due

The Marin Junior College District board tonight will hear a review of the program at the district's marine biology station at Bolinas, and for that reason, the meeting will start at 8 p.m. at the laboratory in Bolinas.

The session will be preceded by a board tour of the facilities, and dinner at the Gibson House in Bolinas.

A report on the success of transfer students from the college at University of California, San Francisco State and San Jose State colleges will be presented, along with a report by Roy Mikalson, assistant dean of instruction, on use of evening hours for credit courses.

Korean Labor For California?

SEOUL (AP)—The South Korean government is sounding out the possibility of sending Korean farm hands of California under long-term labor contracts, informed foreign ministry sources said today.

They said the government was hoping to place up to 20,000 Koreans on California farms.

They said the Korean embassy in Washington has been told to work for such a labor export plan.

Synanon Founder Is Seeking Funds

Charles E. Dederich, founder of Synanon which recently opened a facility to cure narcotics addicts on Tomales Bay, is in New York this week, seeking financial aid.

Dederich, who will also visit officials in New Jersey, hopes to get aid from the East for work being done to cure addicts that come from that area.

The former British protectorate of Northern Rhodesia became a nation Oct. 24, 1964, with the new name of Zambia.

U.S. Writer On Trial In Poland

WARSAW (UPI) — The government called today for the conviction of writer Melchior Wankowicz, a U.S. citizen charged with "slandering" Poland, and demanded a sentence of at least three years in prison.

The prosecutor made the plea in closing his case against the 72-year-old author, who was arrested Oct. 5 on charges of "transmitting abroad material slanderous to people's Poland which he prepared."

Following a statement by Wankowicz in which he asserted his innocence, the trial was adjourned until Monday, when the verdict is expected.

Postmaster Due Rousing Send-Off

Belvedere-Tiburon residents are going to give their retiring postmaster, Mrs. Stella A. Ehrenfelt, a rousing send-off. In fact, they hope to send her to Mexico for a time.

City councilmen of both cities will meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the Belvedere Community Hall for a public reception honoring Mrs. Ehrenfelt. Organizers of the reception said all residents in both communities are invited. Local housewives are naking cookies to serve with coffee.

Mrs. Sandy McLean, a former postoffice employee and 46-year Tiburon resident, will be a specially invited guest.

Mrs. Ehrenfelt retired Saturday after more than 27 years as postmaster of the Belvedere-Tiburon Post Office. She was replaced by Acting Postmaster Theodore J. Lehmann.

Residents of the area are organizing a Stella Ehrenfelt travel fund to help finance a Christmas trip to Mexico for the former postmaster. Fred E. Palmer, 41 Peninsula Road, Belvedere, is treasurer for the fund.

The reception is being organized by Mrs. Wallace E. Scott, Mrs. Hal Kipp, and Mrs. Benton D. Matnews, all of Belvedere.

Novato High Homecoming Is Slated

The sixth annual homecoming at Novato High School will be observed with an alumni dance tomorrow night and the homecoming football game with Redwood High School Saturday afternoon.

The dance will be held from 8 to 11:30 p.m. in the old gymnasium. Game time is 2 p.m. at the football field.

The five homecoming queen candidates, selected last week by the varsity football squad, will be kept secret until the alumni dance. The candidates will be escorted in convertibles around the track at half time of the football game.

Each class in the high school is competing in a float contest for homecoming. Floats will be judged and exhibited during the half-time ceremonies.

The queen will be selected at a school-wide election on Nov. 18. She and her court will be crowned at the coronation ball on Nov. 21 in the old gymnasium.

De Gaulle Sends LBJ His Congratulations

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle today sent a telegram to President Lyndon B. Johnson which read:

"Mr. President, I convey to you my sincerest congratulations on your brilliant election. I have every confidence that under your presidency the American people, friends and allies of the French people, will continue to live and progress in peace and prosperity."

TELEVISION REVIEW

Salinger's Girth On TV Was Defeat

By RICK du BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — I don't want to appear immodest, but if Pierre Salinger had been one of our readers he might not have lost his senatorial race with former song-and-dance man George Murphy in California.

The next time Pierre tells you he used to be in the newspaper business, ask him how he possibly could have missed our piece of July 21, which started out:

"It is entirely possible that television has severely limited the chances of a fat man or a skinny man" to be a future president of the United States.

Now it's true that Pierre isn't skinny and he wasn't running for president, but he is sort of on the chubby side and he was running for high office—and he did depend on television a lot.

Consider, now, his opponent Murphy. Like Pierre, Murphy seems to be a most amiable fellow. But unlike Pierre, he looks fit enough to step into another song-and-dance role.

Television did not do Pierre any good. Watchers of old movies on video could see Murphy in his pleasant portrayals, and then note how he had become a successful businessman without taking on any appreciable girth.

On the other hand, you may remember that Pierre once refused to go on a 50-mile hike to show he was as fit as all the other Democrats in office. To many of us, Pierre at that point became a non-partisan hero of good sense. In fact, if he had run for office several hundred years ago, he might have been elected king. But his chances in a country that is diet-mad, thinks thin and watches television were really nil from the start.

Televiewers could have told Pierre he had other problems. One was even pointed out by Murphy, who noted good-naturedly that he always played the good guy in films. And no one, except maybe George Romney, looks more like a senator or governor should than does Murphy.

Murphy even feels that a television debate he had with Pierre in California worked to his advantage because of his good guy image, and may even have been the turning point of the campaign.

Pierre, meanwhile, not only is on the hefty side, but smokes cigars, and prominently, and in public too. And no one who watches television or movies has to be told that politicians who are heavy and smoke cigars are rarely heroes. Sometimes they even go into smoke-filled rooms. Edward Arnold taught us all we have to know about that.

Pierre was born for the non-television age, when the gout, and not ulcers, sufficed as indubitable proof that a man knew all about the finer things of life, or at least looked as though he did. And this, then, is the real story behind the story of the California senatorial race.

Birth Control Clinic Favored

TORONTO (UPI)—Toronto may soon have city-supervised birth control clinics.

The board of control approved in principle yesterday the establishment of such clinics.

Previous legislation permitted hospitals to dispense birth control information only to persons on relief.

To facilitate establishment of the clinics, city solicitor William Callow will investigate the city's legal authority and Welfare Commissioner Robena Morris will report on suitable locations.

Full Dress Review Set At Academy

San Rafael Military Academy will hold its first full dress review and retreat ceremony at 4 p.m. Sunday at Cadet Stadium.

A 15-minute concert by the school band will precede the review, which will include a promotion ceremony and an appearance of the academy drill team. The Mothers' Club will serve tea at 2 p.m., and school facilities will be open to visitors.
